THE DEATH OF FREEMASONRY

THE TRUE MEANING OF DANIEL 11

THE END OF NATO

The Meaning and Fulfilment of the Prophecies in the Book of Daniel

By

James Daniel Barnes

Introduction:

In many previous books on the interpretation of Daniel, attributing the antichrist to a single person such as Napoleon, Hitler, or Antiochus IV Epiphanes the Seleucid king, etc, the various interpretations always fail on the following points:

The interpretation of the prophesy must be seen to agree with not only Jesus' prophesies in Mark, John, Luke, etc. but also the other Old Testament prophecies for the latter days (End Times) given in Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Habakkuk, etc. as well as various other extrabiblical eschatological prophesies such as the Book of Enoch, Baruch, Jubilees, and the Apocalypse of Timothy. Furthermore, that great unrecognized modern day Christian prophet Edgar Cayce (whose definitive interpretation of the Revelation proved to be of enormous help and value) unambiguously said in a reading that WWII was at least partially referred to in Daniel 11. This helpful insight makes null and void the retroactive interpretations' claims in other books that the prophesy in Daniel has already been completely fulfilled long ago by much older historical events. Also, what would be the point in prophesizing some mundane event? God is interested in the maturation of His people and the advent of the city of the Messiah on earth at the end of days and prophesies given to His prophets should reflect God's aims. This little point in itself agrees with the Book of Enoch's warning that at the End of Days subverters would come along that would pervert the scriptures; by either altering their content or by deliberately interpreting their content fallaciously and writing books to spread these lies, saying that, for example, the resurrection has already happened. The leading subversive interpretation of the Book of Daniel promotes the interpretation that the antichrist was Antiochus. This is a fallacy as I am about to demonstrate to you below. It is demonstrably about the END TIMES, which Jesus thought necessary to warn the faithful about, telling them to watch for a particular collection of signs of the end all happening at once. It is extremely noteworthy that one of the signs is "When you see the abomination of desolation mentioned by Daniel the prophet"! -Those are Christ's very words, and they conclusively establish that Daniel's prophecy is about the end times and that God has placed Daniel's prophecy before us so that the faithful can be alerted when it is just about to happen.

I have included a couple of earlier chapters of Daniel here WITHOUT interpretation, to help remind you of context. These chapters need no further interpretation as they are interpreted for us in the book itself (with the exception of the identity of the person symbolized by the "little horn" in Daniel 7:8 and mentioned again in Daniel 8:9 - This will be addressed later on). I shall confine my commentary to mainly Daniel 11 only, so if you want to skip right to that, please go right ahead; it starts below on page 20. I shall explain using the King James Bible because other more recent editions of the Bible have a few subtly changed key words in the Book of Daniel which were deliberately introduced to sabotage the understanding of the reader and to cover up the identity of an insidious secret society that has been manipulating world events for hundreds of years. (And please bear in mind that the dismissive use of the term "conspiracy theory" was deliberately popularized in the media to get people to trick themselves out of learning about the existence of this pervasive secret society and recognizing that world events are continually covered in their fingerprints. Although many people do not understand what is going on in world events, once you familiarize yourself with the goals, methods, and peculiar doctrines of this secret society, every world event becomes instantly understandable. Therefore, please give the interpretation herein your closest attention, since you are about to learn something that I am confident will change your life and enlighten your mind for the rest of your existence. As you will see, this is no idle boast, because you will get insight into not only the workings of the world but you will be provided with proof that God exists by observing the fulfillment of His prophesies.

Also keep in mind that the Archangel Michael was one of the main sources of the information channeled through Edgar Cayce during the Readings. Since Archangel Michael is MENTIONED in the Daniel prophecy here, his personal testimony from the Edgar Cayce Readings (which always comes across as startlingly genuine) is particularly valuable regarding the reference to WWII. Cayce [Michael] said that events playing out behind the scenes as it were in 1936 were the very beginning of some of the momentous events that were prophesized in the Book of Daniel and would eventually lead to the realization of the Messiah's Kingdom on Earth. As it turns out, that's perfectly in accord with scripture, as we shall see. Furthermore, the Edgar Cayce Readings revealed the very helpful information that the antichrist is not to be any single person but is rather a continual barrage of consistently ungodly messages of corrupt, inverted ideals to be given out by what he called “the false prophet of the day”; the media. In the media during the antichrist’s “reign”, morals which are a direct inversion of Christ’s teachings will be inculcated into the masses. In other words, the media and the people who form the programming in the media are collectively “the antichrist”; that is, they are literally anti-Christ. Obviously, this is happening right now and has been going on for some time. More about this below.

Here is an example of a message from the Archangel Michael as given through Edgar Cayce:

Note that Michael's reference to fire agrees beautifully with Isaiah 24:6 and other Biblical passages as well as the assertion in the prophecy in the Apocalypse of Thomas that at the end the present world would be widely destroyed by fire.

Note too that he refers to stumbling-blocks; the deliberate sabotage by subversion utilized by the media, which is referred to as the Doctrine of Balaam in the Book of Revelation. Freemasons teach their members in part by having them study the Doctrine of Balaam, of the Jewish story of Balak and Balaam. If they agree to engage in this, they are promoted in the organization. The story about the Biblical-era origin of this subversion-doctrine is thoroughly explained in The Legends of the Jews — Volume 3 by Louis Ginzberg. The doctrine essentially boils down to the deliberate sabotage of Christians, pious Jews, and anyone else who believes in the God of the Hebrews by inciting them to vice, egotism, and lewdness; placing temptations and challenges to their worldview before them at every conceivable turn.

Sounds very like the media, doesn't it?

7:1 In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel had a dream and visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream, and told the sum of the matters.

[The author will proceed to offer interpretations in this form; as bracketed interpolations in the Holy text. Please excuse me if it seems improper.]

[The purpose of this book is to interpret that which, in the text, remains uninterpreted. Therefore I will not interpret Daniel 7, only merely remind you of it here, since the correct interpretation thereof is later explained by Daniel himself shortly… If you're short on time you can go ahead and skip to page 24.]

7:2 Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the great sea.

7:3 And four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another.

7:4 The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it.

7:5 And behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and it raised up itself on one side, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it between the teeth of it: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh.

7:6 After this I beheld, and lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it.

7:7 After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns.

7:8 I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things.

7:9 I beheld till the thrones were cast down, and the Ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire.

7:10 A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened.

7:11 I beheld then because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake: I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame.

7:12 As concerning the rest of the beasts, they had their dominion taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and time.

7:13 I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.

7:14 And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

7:15 I Daniel was grieved in my spirit in the midst of my body, and the visions of my head troubled me.

7:16 I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.

7:17 These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth.

7:18 But the saints of the most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever.

7:19 Then I would know the truth of the fourth beast, which was diverse from all the others, exceeding dreadful, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet; 7:20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell; even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows.

7:21 I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them; 7:22 Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.

7:23 Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

7:24 And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings that shall arise: and another shall rise after them; and he shall be diverse from the first, and he shall subdue three kings.

7:25 And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time.

7:26 But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end.

7:27 And the kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the most High, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him.

7:28 Hitherto is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my cogitations much troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

8:1 In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the first.

8:2 And I saw in a vision; and it came to pass, when I saw, that I was at Shushan in the palace, which is in the province of Elam; and I saw in a vision, and I was by the river of Ulai.

8:3 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last.

8:4 I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward; so that no beasts might stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand; but he did according to his will, and became great.

8:5 And as I was considering, behold, an he goat came from the west on the face of the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes.

8:6 And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had seen standing before the river, and ran unto him in the fury of his power.

8:7 And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns: and there was no power in the ram to stand before him, but he cast him down to the ground, and stamped upon him: and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand.

8:8 Therefore the he goat waxed very great: and when he was strong, the great horn was broken; and for it came up four notable ones toward the four winds of heaven.

8:9 And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the pleasant land.

8:10 And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven; and it cast down some of the host and of the stars to the ground, and stamped upon them.

8:11 Yea, he magnified himself even to the prince of the host, and by him the daily sacrifice was taken away, and the place of the sanctuary was cast down.

8:12 And an host was given him against the daily sacrifice by reason of transgression, and it cast down the truth to the ground; and it practised, and prospered.

8:13 Then I heard one saint speaking, and another saint said unto that certain saint which spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the daily sacrifice, and the transgression of desolation, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot? 8:14 And he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred days; then shall the sanctuary be cleansed.

8:15 And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, and sought for the meaning, then, behold, there stood before me as the appearance of a man.

8:16 And I heard a man's voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and said, Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision.

8:17 So he came near where I stood: and when he came, I was afraid, and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, O son of man: for at the time of the end shall be the vision.

8:18 Now as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep sleep on my face toward the ground: but he touched me, and set me upright.

8:19 And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the last end of the indignation: for at the time appointed the end shall be.

8:20 The ram which thou sawest having two horns are the kings of Media and Persia.

8:21 And the rough goat is the king of Grecia: and the great horn that is between his eyes is the first king.

8:22 Now that being broken, whereas four stood up for it, four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not in his power.

8:23 And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up.

8:24 And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power: and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the mighty and the holy people.

8:25 And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and by peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against the Prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand.

8:26 And the vision of the evening and the morning which was told is true: wherefore shut thou up the vision; for it shall be for many days.

8:27 And I Daniel fainted, and was sick certain days; afterward I rose up, and did the king's business; and I was astonished at the vision, but none understood it.

9:1 In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, which was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans; 9:2 In the first year of his reign I Daniel understood by books the number of the years, whereof the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet, that he would accomplish seventy years in the desolations of Jerusalem.

9:3 And I set my face unto the Lord God, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes: 9:4 And I prayed unto the LORD my God, and made my confession, and said, O Lord, the great and dreadful God, keeping the covenant and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments; 9:5 We have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts and from thy judgments: 9:6 Neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

9:7 O LORD, righteousness belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of faces, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee.

9:8 O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

9:9 To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses, though we have rebelled against him; 9:10 Neither have we obeyed the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets.

9:11 Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even by departing, that they might not obey thy voice; therefore the curse is poured upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against him.

9:12 And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil: for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jerusalem.

9:13 As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: yet made we not our prayer before the LORD our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and understand thy truth.

9:14 Therefore hath the LORD watched upon the evil, and brought it upon us: for the LORD our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth: for we obeyed not his voice.

9:15 And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renown, as at this day; we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

9:16 O LORD, according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain: because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us.

9:17 Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake.

9:18 O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies.

9:19 O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; defer not, for thine own sake, O my God: for thy city and thy people are called by thy name.

9:20 And whiles I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God for the holy mountain of my God; 9:21 Yea, whiles I was speaking in prayer, even the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

9:22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to give thee skill and understanding.

9:23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment came forth, and I am come to shew thee; for thou art greatly beloved: therefore understand the matter, and consider the vision.

9:24 Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most Holy.

9:25 Know therefore and understand, that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem unto the Messiah the Prince shall be seven weeks, and threescore and two weeks: the street shall be built again, and the wall, even in troublous times.

9:26 And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined.

9:27 And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the overspreading of abominations he shall make it desolate, even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured upon the desolate.

10:1 In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a thing was revealed unto Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar; and the thing was true, but the time appointed was long: and he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision.

10:2 In those days I Daniel was mourning three full weeks.

10:3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled.

10:4 And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is Hiddekel; 10:5 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold a certain man clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with fine gold of Uphaz: 10:6 His body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet like in colour to polished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.

10:7 And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me saw not the vision; but a great quaking fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.

10:8 Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for my comeliness was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength.

10:9 Yet heard I the voice of his words: and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I in a deep sleep on my face, and my face toward the ground.

10:10 And, behold, an hand touched me, which set me upon my knees and upon the palms of my hands.

10:11 And he said unto me, O Daniel, a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright: for unto thee am I now sent.

And when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling.

10:12 Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chasten thyself before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.

10:13 But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days: but, lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me; and I remained there with the kings of Persia.

10:14 Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the latter days: for yet the vision is for many days.

10:15 And when he had spoken such words unto me, I set my face toward the ground, and I became dumb.

10:16 And, behold, one like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I have retained no strength.

10:17 For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

10:18 Then there came again and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me, 10:19 And said, O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he had spoken unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me.

10:20 Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo, the prince of Grecia shall come.

[The Grecian realm will grow into what is about to be foretold; not the modern Greece, but the old Greco-Roman Empire and the realm it left behind.]

10:21 But I will shew thee that which is noted in the scripture of truth: and there is none that holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your prince.

11:1 Also I in the first year of Darius the Mede, even I, stood to confirm and to strengthen him.

11:2 And now will I shew thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia; and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and by his strength through his riches he shall stir up all against the realm of Grecia.

[JDB: The battles that here occur will result in the Greco-Roman empire.]

Attacks from Persia upon Greece in ancient times are significant events in history, particularly during the Greco-Persian Wars, which took place in the 5th century BC. These conflicts are often divided into two main phases: the First Persian Invasion of Greece and the Second Persian Invasion of Greece.

First Persian Invasion of Greece (492-490 BC)

The First Persian Invasion was initiated by Darius I [JDB: Okay, we're on the right track here because above, Daniel 11:1 opens by saying, "in the first year of Darius the Mede…"! The ancient region of Media was within the borders of what became modern Iran, AKA, Persia.], the king of the Achaemenid Empire. The primary goal was to punish the Greek city-states of Athens and Eretria for their support of the Ionian Revolt, a rebellion of Greek cities in Asia Minor against Persian rule.

1. Battle of Marathon (490 BC): The most notable event of this invasion was the Battle of Marathon. The Persian army, led by Datis and Artaphernes, landed in Marathon, about 26 miles from Athens. The Athenian army, along with a small contingent from Plataea, marched to Marathon and decisively defeated the Persians. This victory is often cited as a turning point in Greek history, as it demonstrated the Greeks' ability to resist the mighty Persian Empire.

Second Persian Invasion of Greece (480-479 BC)

The Second Persian Invasion was launched by Xerxes I, the son of Darius I, with the aim of conquering all of Greece. This invasion was more extensive and better prepared than the first.

1. Battle of Thermopylae (480 BC): One of the most famous battles of this invasion was the Battle of Thermopylae. A small force of Greeks, led by King Leonidas of Sparta, held off the vast Persian army for several days. Although the Greeks were ultimately defeated, their heroic stand bought valuable time for the rest of Greece to prepare.
2. Battle of Salamis (480 BC): Following Thermopylae, the Persian army advanced into Attica and captured Athens. However, the Athenian navy, under the leadership of Themistocles, lured the Persian fleet into the narrow straits of Salamis, where the Greeks' superior naval tactics and smaller, more maneuverable ships allowed them to inflict a decisive defeat on the Persians.
3. Battle of Plataea (479 BC): The final major land battle of the invasion was the Battle of Plataea. A combined Greek force, led by the Spartans, decisively defeated the Persian army, marking the end of the Persian threat to mainland Greece.
4. Battle of Mycale (479 BC): Concurrently, the Greek navy achieved another victory at the Battle of Mycale, securing control of the Aegean Sea and further weakening Persian influence in the region.

Aftermath

The Greco-Persian Wars had profound effects on both Persia and Greece. For the Greeks, these victories fostered a sense of unity and cultural pride, leading to the Golden Age of Athens under Pericles. For the Persians, the wars marked the beginning of a long period of decline, although the Achaemenid Empire continued to be a significant power for another century.

The conflicts also highlighted the differences in military tactics and strategies between the two civilizations. The Greeks' emphasis on individual prowess and tactical flexibility contrasted with the Persians' reliance on numerical superiority and organized formations.

In summary, the Persian attacks on Greece were pivotal moments in ancient history, shaping the political and cultural landscapes of both regions and leaving a lasting legacy in Western civilization.

11:3 And a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will.

[JDB: Alexander the Great; see below.]

11:4 And when he shall stand up, his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of heaven; and not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion which he ruled: for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others beside those.

[JDB: This means the lands of the Greco-Roman empire, from Britain to Europe, will dissolve and settle into sub-regions; groups of countries.]

Chat GPT: The height and decline of the Grecian dominion.

The answering AI engine was "Mistral Small 3".

The height and decline of Greek dominion, particularly focusing on the classical period, is a fascinating journey marked by significant cultural, political, and military achievements, followed by a gradual decline due to various internal and external factors.

Height of Greek Dominion

Classical Greece (5th-4th Centuries BC)

1. Athens and the Delian League (478-404 BC): After the Persian Wars, Athens emerged as a dominant power. The Delian League, initially formed to continue the fight against Persia, became a vehicle for Athenian imperialism. Athens used the league's funds to build its navy, construct public works (such as the Parthenon), and fund cultural initiatives. This period is often referred to as the Golden Age of Athens, marked by advancements in philosophy, drama, art, and architecture.
2. Sparta and the Peloponnesian League: Sparta, a militaristic city-state, led the Peloponnesian League, which included many of the Greek city-states in the Peloponnese. Sparta's power was based on its formidable army and strict social structure.
3. Cultural and Intellectual Achievements: The classical period saw the rise of great philosophers like Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle, who laid the foundations of Western philosophy. In literature, playwrights like Aeschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides produced timeless works. In science and mathematics, figures like Pythagoras, Euclid, and Archimedes made groundbreaking discoveries.
4. The Peloponnesian War (431-404 BC): This war between Athens and Sparta, along with their respective allies, was a turning point. Although Athens initially had the upper hand, Sparta's eventual victory marked the beginning of the end for Athenian dominance. The war weakened both city-states and paved the way for the rise of other powers.

Hellenistic Period (323-146 BC)

1. Alexander the Great (356-323 BC): After the Peloponnesian War, Philip II of Macedon unified Greece and laid the groundwork for his son Alexander's conquests. Alexander's empire stretched from Greece to India, spreading Greek culture, language, and ideas across a vast region. This period is known as the Hellenistic era.
2. Successor States: [JDB: And here is the relevant point…] After Alexander's death, his empire was divided among his generals, leading to the formation of several Hellenistic kingdoms, including the Ptolemaic Kingdom in Egypt, the Seleucid Empire in the Middle East, and the Antigonid Kingdom in Macedon. These states continued to promote Greek culture and learning.

Decline of Greek Dominion

1. Internal Strife: The Hellenistic kingdoms were often plagued by internal conflicts and power struggles. Constant warfare weakened these states and made them vulnerable to external threats.
2. Roman Expansion: The rise of Rome as a major power in the Mediterranean was a significant factor in the decline of Greek dominion. Rome's conquest of Greece began in the 3rd century BC and culminated in the Battle of Corinth in 146 BC, which marked the end of Greek independence.
3. Cultural Assimilation: While Greek culture continued to thrive under Roman rule, the political and military dominance shifted to Rome. Greek philosophy, art, and literature influenced Roman culture, but the political power lay with the Romans.
4. Economic Factors: The Hellenistic kingdoms faced economic challenges, including the cost of maintaining large armies and the disruption of trade routes due to constant warfare. These economic strains further weakened their ability to resist external threats.
5. Social and Political Instability: The Hellenistic period saw a decline in the city-state model of governance, which had been a hallmark of classical Greece. The larger, more centralized kingdoms were less stable and more prone to internal conflicts.

In summary, the height of Greek dominion was marked by significant cultural and intellectual achievements, particularly during the classical period and the Hellenistic era. However, internal strife, constant warfare, and the rise of Rome led to a gradual decline in Greek political and military power. Despite this, Greek culture and ideas continued to influence the world for centuries to come.

11:5 And the king of the south shall be strong, and one of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion; his dominion shall be a great dominion.

11:6 And in the end of years [jumping much farther ahead in history now] they shall join themselves together; for the king's daughter [Princess Victoria of Saxe-Coburg Saalfeld, born in Coburg, Germany] of the south [Germany] shall come to the king of the north [Britain's King Edward] to make an agreement [An arranged marriage; the Saxe-Coburg and Gotha lineage; later called the House of Windsor to obfuscate the fact of its German ancestry]: but she shall not retain the power of the arm [The British royal family will sell out and give all their power to the Freemasons rather than be deposed by their anti-monarchic internationalist policies]; neither shall he stand, nor his arm: but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in these times.

11:7 But out of a branch of her [Queen Victoria's] roots shall one stand up in his estate, which shall come with an army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail.

[This refers to an ancestor of Victoria's (her roots) whose "army", Freemasonry, made secret dealings securing the stranglehold which that secret society gained over the British royal family and still retains to this very day [at least at the time of writing this; 2026]. This ancestor was the Prince Regent, who later became King George IV, and was related to Queen Victoria. The Prince Regent was the eldest son of King George III. Queen Victoria was the granddaughter of King George III's third son, Edward, Duke of Kent and Strathearn. Therefore, the Prince Regent and Queen Victoria were first cousins, once removed. In addition to his very deep involvement in Freemasonry, the Prince Regent was well known even at the time for his dabbling in Satanism and his prominent participation in an exclusive club of perverse infernalists called the Hellfire Club. (The BBC Television show, "Blackadder III" was a disinformation attempt designed to alter public perceptions about Prince George so as to throw off the (correct) belief that Masonic Satanism penetrated the royal family due to his activities. The show sought to soften his image, and to paint the character as merely a brainless but ultimately harmless rake, instead of the malignant plotter against Christendom and the enemy of any and all existing sovereign monarchies of the world that he really was. It might even be argued that anti-monarchic internationalist globalism arose out of his personal Masonic concepts. This is the true reason that stars of this show such as Tony Robinson had been knighted by the Queen of England, which is otherwise completely inexplicable. Note that any award given out by the British royals is a disgraceful mark of Masonic culpability; proof that the recipient has blasphemed against Jesus in conspiring against Him, as well as the guilty mark of the betrayal of every single citizen of the UK in helping to sell them out to Baphomet/Satan-worshipping Internationalists; it is more shameful than having dung smeared upon the face.) It is no exaggeration to say that the Prince Regent contaminating the British royals with the taint of Freemasonry was the cause of virtually all the wars that came about during and after his reign, and ever since, as well as the original source of all our present troubles, which is why he is mentioned in this prophecy. This is because his secret society gained power over Britain and from there began spreading its Masonic tentacles into Europe, Africa, the Near, Middle, and Far East, and the rest of the world, as we shall see in a moment as the prophecy proceeds…]

11:8 And shall also carry captives into Egypt their gods, with their princes, and with their precious vessels of silver and of gold; and he shall continue more years than the king of the north.

[The British introduced Freemasonry to Egypt and liberally plundered Egypt of its treasures for the British Museum. see also Daniel 11:43.

England did not formally colonize Egypt in the same way it did with some other territories. However, British influence and control over Egypt began to increase significantly in the late 19th century. Here are some key events:

1. Suez Canal: The Suez Canal, completed in 1869, was a significant factor in increasing British interest in Egypt. The canal was crucial for British trade routes to India and the Far East.
2. Egyptian Debt: In 1875, Egypt was forced to sell its shares in the Suez Canal Company to the British government due to financial difficulties. This gave Britain a significant stake in the canal and, by extension, in Egyptian affairs.
3. British Occupation: In 1882, following the Urabi Revolt, Britain invaded Egypt and established a protectorate. This marked the beginning of direct British control over Egypt's political and economic affairs.
4. Formal Protectorate: In 1914, during World War I, Britain declared Egypt a protectorate, effectively making it a British colony. This status remained until 1922, when Egypt gained nominal independence, although British influence continued to be significant.

So, while Egypt was not formally colonized in the traditional sense until 1914, British control and influence over Egypt began to take shape in the late 19th century.]

11:9 So the king of the south shall come into his kingdom, and shall return into his own land.

[In this prophecy, the King of the South has evolved out of events beginning with Alexander the Great's generals. Now, at this point in the prophecy, Imperial Germany is considered the King of the South for the time being, as evidenced by what follows…]

11:10 But his sons shall be stirred up, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces: and one shall certainly come, and overflow, and pass through: then shall he return, and be stirred up, even to his fortress. [The beginning of the Great War; WWI]

11:11 And the king of the south [Kaiser Wilhelm] shall be moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north [Britain, France, Belgium, etc.] : and he shall set forth a great multitude [The Western Powers' armies of WWI.]; but the multitude shall be given into his hand. [Eventually Germany becomes part of NATO.]

In World War I, the term "Western Powers" typically refers to the Allied Powers, which were the countries that opposed the Central Powers. The main Western Powers in World War I were:

1. France: France was one of the key Allied Powers and had a significant role in the war, particularly on the Western Front.
2. United Kingdom: The British Empire, including the United Kingdom and its colonies, was a major player in the war. The British forces fought on various fronts, including the Western Front, the Middle East, and Africa.
3. United States: The United States entered the war in April 1917 and played a crucial role in turning the tide in favor of the Allies. The U.S. provided significant military and economic support.
4. Italy: Italy joined the Allies in 1915 and fought against the Central Powers, primarily on the Italian Front.
5. Belgium: Belgium was invaded by Germany in 1914 and remained occupied throughout the war. Belgian forces fought alongside the Allies, particularly on the Western Front.
6. Portugal: Portugal entered the war in 1916 and fought against the Central Powers, primarily in Africa and on the Western Front.
7. Greece: Greece entered the war on the side of the Allies in 1917 and fought against the Central Powers, primarily in the Macedonian Front.
8. Romania: Romania joined the Allies in 1916 but was quickly defeated by the Central Powers and occupied until 1918, when it re-entered the war on the side of the Allies.

These countries, along with other smaller Allied nations, formed the Western Powers that opposed the Central Powers, which included Germany, Austria-Hungary, the Ottoman Empire, and Bulgaria.

11:12 And when he hath taken away the multitude, his heart shall be lifted up; and he shall cast down many ten thousands: but he shall not be strengthened by it. [Trench warfare slaughtered thousands, but this did nothing to help Germany against the taint of international Freemasonry.]

11:13 For the king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former, and shall certainly come after certain years with a great army and with much riches.

[WWII]

11:14 And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south [Germany].

Also the robbers of thy people [Who staged the Apollo Moon landing hoax to appropriate funds from the US Treasury; the Freemasons.] shall exalt themselves [with pretentious, inflated titles reflecting their initiation degrees] to establish the vision [of a one-world government united in Secular Humanism, the Satanism of egoism and of homosexuality, and calling it "equality" and "freedom"]; but they shall fall.

[The total cost of the Apollo program, adjusted for inflation to express it in the value of today's money, is estimated to have been about $288 Billion. This was paid by American taxpayers. The whole thing was a hoax perpetrated so that the Freemasons could embezzle the money from the American Treasury and spend it as they wished (This is the meaning of Proverbs 1:14). The hoax had the additional effect of hiding the truth about God's Firmament behind a lie. This lie is the idea that earth is just a little inconsequential rock among trillions of similar objects hanging in space as opposed to the most important place in creation; God's Firmament in which human souls become ennobled. The lie is called the Cosmological Principle. For more about this see the physics book, Galileo was Wrong, the Church was Right. It is a damning indictment against all the lies of NASA. Physics has actually already proved that Earth is at the physical centre of the cosmos but NASA is attempting to suppress the information with all of their resources. NASA and it's cast of celebrity pop-physicist clowns are nothing but a Masonic propaganda agency that issues press releases tailored to continually perpetuate these two main deceptions.

Notably, Edgar Cayce, the "sleeping prophet" of Christianity, when asked about cosmology, once said, "The centre of the universe is the Christ potential in the human soul."]

~ Nebuchadnezzar's Dream ~

Proverbs 1 : 1-33

How important is NOT getting involved in the Freemasons?

Consider that the entirety of Psalms 1 is a cautionary warning NEVER to get involved with them!

Although Freemasons often use references to King Solomon in their rituals, here we have King Solomon himself cautioning the reader about the spiritual disaster one brings upon oneself by mistakenly joining the Freemasons.

[1] The proverbs of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel; [2] To know wisdom and instruction; to perceive the words of understanding; [3] To receive the instruction of wisdom, justice, and judgment, and equity; [4] To give subtilty to the simple, to the young man knowledge and discretion. [5] A wise man will hear, and will increase learning; and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels: [6] To understand a proverb, and the interpretation; the words of the wise, and their dark sayings. [7] The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction. [8] My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother: [9] For they shall be an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck. [10] My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not. [11] If they say, Come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause: [12] Let us swallow them up alive as the grave; and whole, as those that go down into the pit: [13] We shall find all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoil: [14] Cast in thy lot among us; let us all have one purse: [15] My son, walk not thou in the way with them; refrain thy foot from their path: [16] For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood. [17] Surely in vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird. [18] And they lay wait for their own blood; they lurk privily for their own lives. [19] So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain; which taketh away the life of the owners thereof. [20] Wisdom crieth without; she uttereth her voice in the streets: [21] She crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates: in the city she uttereth her words, saying, [22] How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity? and the scorners delight in their scorning, and fools hate knowledge? [23] Turn you at my reproof: behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you. [24] Because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded; [25] But ye have set at nought all my counsel, and would none of my reproof: [26] I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh; [27] When your fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind; when distress and anguish cometh upon you. [28] Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me: [29] For that they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the LORD: [30] They would none of my counsel: they despised all my reproof. [31] Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices. [32] For the turning away of the simple shall slay them, and the prosperity of fools shall destroy them. [33] But whoso hearkeneth unto me shall dwell safely, and shall be quiet from fear of evil.

Also, consider ISAIAH 9 : 14-15...

Therefore the LORD will cut off from Israel head and tail, branch and rush, in one day. The ancient and honourable, he is the head [The Freemasons]; and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail [The Media].

11:15 So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mount, and take the most fenced cities: and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

[The Masonic-motivated Western Powers, a prototype of NATO, will win WWI.]

11:16 But he that cometh against him shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the glorious land [Israel], which by his hand shall be consumed.

[Britain first invaded Palestine during World War I as part of the Sinai and Palestine Campaign. The most significant military operation during this period was the Battle of Gaza, which took place in 1917. However, the British forces did not fully occupy Palestine until the end of the war in 1918. Following the war, the League of Nations, Masonic prototype of the Masonic UN, granted Britain a mandate over Palestine, which lasted until 1948.

The League of Nations and the later UN were a Masonic organization made to look like an honest attempt to end war forever. Indeed, WWI, at the time, was promoted as "The War to End War" and Westerners at the time were told that by waging this war, they were making sure war could never happen again because the nations would achieve harmonious understanding with a new organization to discuss and settle grievances and devise cooperative policy. This was of course a complete lie; the aim was never to end war, in fact, the UN describes itself as a system for the "management of war". The entire Masonic purpose of WWI was to dethrone as many kings as possible in favour of Masonic democracy and to destroy as many empires as possible. Three empires were shattered and sixteen kings were dethroned during WWI in anticipation of the policy of Masonic internationalist globalism.

Edgar Cayce said that the Jews were the most misunderstood people in the world. This is likely because Freemasonry has, for at least 300 years, attempted to frame Jews for the crimes Freemasonry has itself perpetrated, through innumerable planted psychologically manipulative articles and endless books. This began with the original limited hangout, the "Protocols of Zion", and continued through books like "The Controversy of Zion", written by a Freemason, which tries to make the war against Germany look like it was instigated by not a Masonic conspiracy, but a Jewish conspiracy. If Nazis supposedly hate Jews, and publishing "hate-books" proscribing discrimination is supposedly illegal, why then is it that The Controversy of Zion and innumerable other books framing Jews have remained in print for decades and are even available on the largest book-selling sites? Is it perhaps because those books are written by Freemasons and those corporations are owned by Freemasons?

There is no super-corporation that is not controlled by Freemasons. Without their mark, one cannot buy, sell, or trade enough to prosper beyond being but a small business owner.

(Sound familiar somehow? Rev 13:17)

When I first moved to Japan I was surprised to find that the few people here who were bright enough to recognize the various propaganda tropes the media disseminates had come to the conclusion that the Jews were the source of it. I myself once fell into that trap, but continued observation proves that that theory is unworkable: Why would Jews promote internationalism if they are Semitic supremacists? (For that matter, why would the Nazis promote international programs and armed foreign legions if they were supposedly Aryan supremacists?) Why would the malls mysteriously start selling effeminizing makeup for men (here in Japan anyway) when there is zero demand for such a thing? Why would they start teaching Japanese children, as soon as they enter elementary school, that homosexuality is normal, even going so far as to put up posters in classrooms and produce children's anime shown on national TV advocating homosexual lifestyles? Why would the Japanese media pull so many stunts to attempt to corrupt women, such as creating the modern pop-culture myth of the "tsundere"; the argumentative, selfish girl that men supposedly find irresistible. (Who wants to be around such a person? Who has ever met a man who doesn't want his woman to be sweet and kind and supportive? Actually, they just tell young ladies this to corrupt them into becoming walking ideological weapons). Now, are we to believe that Jewish men all want to wear makeup, and that they are all gay, and that they all like dominant, argumentative women? Of course not. But all these things are actively endorsed by NATO style Freemasonry and proscribed to their members as ideologies to advocate as Masonic practitioners of Baphomet's inversion doctrine. Similarly, when we see propaganda being slung at us from people that are patently not Jewish, are we to believe that there is some way that Jews can enlist non-Jew agents who are all ready and willing to sabotage their own races religions and countries on behalf of a supposed vision of a Jewish world empire? Which is more likely; that the Freemasons' Baphomet cult was invented to create agents for Jewish Zionism, or is it perhaps that Jews are simply eligible to join Freemasonry, where they can learn Baphomet's doctrines too?

One Jew who is well known to have gotten involved with Freemasonry was Jacob Frank, who, after spending a great deal of time involved with Masonic rites and indulging in the Masons' "extracurricular recreations" turned around and attempted to subvert Judaism, attempting to subvert Jews into embracing Masonic doctrines. He declared himself the Messiah and founded a disgraceful "offshoot" of Judaism, which he misleadingly named "Reform Judaism", that teaches promiscuous sex and rejection of the Lord's offer of resurrection, denying it implicitly. His attractive daughter was established as the high-priestess of what was little more than a sex-cult, but there are still modern Jews who would prefer to believe that this Freemason subverter was the Messiah. These Jews got tricked just as endless others have been tricked by Freemasonry's continual attempts to corrupt the public.

The Book of Daniel tells us flat out that the culpable party, the "King of the North" worships "the god of Forces". It does not tell us that the culpable party is the "King of the Middle-East" that worships "The God of the Hebrews" or, "The God of his Fathers".

I am telling you this not to forgive the genocidal actions of the apparently psychotic regime in modern Israel, I am telling you this to make certain that you recognize the source of this Satanism for what it is:

NATO-style Freemasonry.

The annexation of Palestine was done because, as difficult to accept as this might sound, the guiding forces of Freemasonry are three evil spirits, possibly fallen angels, who are still spiritually bound to carry out the Word of the LORD despite their conspiring to do evil against Him and despite their loyalty to Lucifer. These unclean spirits are mentioned in Revelation:

{REV16:13}

And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet. {16:14} For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty.

The above spiritual constraint by the spoken law of God led the "three frogs" to order the British arch-masons to withdraw badly-needed British reinforcements from the front line trenches of the Great War (during their lowest ebb in manpower), send them 3,200 kilometres (1,988 miles) away from where the war was raging, and redeploy them in the Middle-East for the 1915 annexation of Palestine under the mandate of the Balfour declaration with an eventual aim of the creation of a modern country to be called Israel.

By the way, Christians really shouldn't pick sides regarding the Palestine/Israel conflict. The reasons for God's judgement that has gone forth against the Palestinians and the modern Jews living in Israel is delineated in Isaiah and Jeremiah. Edgar Cayce explained that war can often be God's way of bringing karmic retribution upon specific individuals for grievous sins they committed in previous incarnations; egregious fornicators, idolaters, murderers, mockers, Moloch-worshippers, and others who continually refused God in all their previous lives. This interpretation jibes precisely with what the Bible's prophets suggest God is really punishing us for. What? You don't believe in reincarnation? As Christians, even though it is rarely mentioned, we are obliged to believe in and accept the concept of reincarnation. If a person is a Christian it follows that they already believe in reincarnation because the Bible shows John the Baptist as being the reincarnation of Elias. If a person denies this they deny the legitimacy of Christ because the Messiah was prophesized to be preceded by the reappearance of Elias to the people. So as Christians we assuredly do believe in reincarnation a priori.

The prophecy that the Messiah would be preceded by the reappearance of Elijah/Elias is found in the Book of Malachi.

Malachi 4:5-6 KJV

[5] "Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and awesome day of the Lord comes. [6] And he will turn the hearts of fathers to their children and the hearts of children to their fathers, lest I come and strike the land with a decree of utter destruction."

Matthew 17:12-13

[12] "But I say unto you, That Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them. [13] Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist."

Needless to say, if a person rejects the above quote, it necessarily follows that they aren't a Christian.

We also believe in Karma, although we rarely think of it as such, but this is what is referred to in Revelation 13:10; "He that leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity. He that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword…" God's judgement is superior to our own because He can see everyone's behaviour throughout all of their past lives. We can only see a tiny sliver of a person's actions and we are thus susceptible to forming distorted, erroneous beliefs about a person's character. God's judgements are true and righteous because he can see everything everyone has done in all of their incarnations and we accept this always as proof that His judgements are better informed than ours. Woe to those who do not, For His hand is stretched out against them; Modern Palestine is being punished, but Modern Israel (as of the time of writing this book; 2026) is occupied largely by the deceived and their leaders are Satanic globalist Freemasons. All will be resolved in the world war over Jerusalem that is just about to occur as the Lord rebukes the apostate generation. It is in the Lord's Hands.]

11:17 He shall also set his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdom, and upright ones with him [the duped and deceived Christians tricked into committing murder in war for a satanic kingdom to-be]; thus shall he do: and he shall give him the daughter of women, corrupting her: but she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

[The Masonic corruption of women really exploded like wildfire in the years around WWI and continued to amplify steadily via the media-manufactured subversions of the 1920's. By WWII, movies were regularly promoting feminism; openly corrupting women. The arbitrary popularizing of giant shoulder pads in ladies' dresses and off-the-face haircuts for women was conceived to make them more intimidating to men, to name just one of thousands of symptoms of this cultural disease. This is according to the Masonic Baphomet doctrine, delineated in Aleister Crowley's demented book Liber 333, in which women are to be turned into men and vice versa, Christians are to be transmuted into Satanists by media manipulation, and the whole world is to be turned inside out in every possible way. This is called the "great alchemical working" by Freemasons. It is called "reprehensible perversion" by everyone else. The name of the Masons' idol, Baphomet, is a reference to alchemy. Goat-headed, half-male, and half-female, Baphomet is the personification of CHANGE and transmutation. All those songs from the sixties and seventies that refer to the times changing were written by Freemasons to make strange changes to society appear to be normal when in fact things were being changed arbitrarily from the top down in accord with the philosophy and inversion-doctrines of Baphomet-worship.]

I may as well here point out that Baphomet's name is a portmanteau:

Basileus philosophorum metalor → × King of the philosophers METALS

This refers to the idea of the "universal solvent"; this bafflegab is intended to symbolize the words written on the arms of idols of Baphomet the Freemasons worship; "coagulate" and "dissolve" which refers to their philosophy of cementing their hold over the world in every possible manner while simultaneously everywhere undermining however possible the target of their hate, the Judeo-Christian establishment, and in particular, belief in Jesus Christ.

It may surprise you to learn, (then again it might not!) That JK Rowling, of Harry Potter fame, has the words, "coagulate" and "dissolve" tattooed on her arms, just like her god, Baphomet. Look it up. Yes, she's a Freemason witch dedicated to subverting Christian youth.

[Please see my book, Why Freemasonry Invented Feminism for more on this. (Available for free on Internet Archive.)]

11:18 After this shall he turn his face unto the isles, and shall take many [the usurping of power from Germany's island colonies after WWI]: but a prince for his own behalf shall cause the reproach offered by him to cease; without his own reproach he shall cause it to turn upon him.
[Kaiser Wilhelm - Kaiser Wilhelm's anti-British messages to the people of Germany carried them through WWI, but when these stopped, a large portion of the public embraced Marxism and agitated for their leader to be deposed. The communist literature that was then being circulated among the German military and the German public fostered the erroneous belief that the old Prussian tradition of militarism to which the Kaiser belonged was entirely to blame for WWI. -They turned on him and the 1919 German Revolution began… Note the dream Daniel had about the beast-empire that would "cast down thrones"; The masonic motivation in WWI was, as always, to dethrone as many kings as possible, especially Germany. This is because a strong sovereign nation rallies around their king, whose word is law. The Masonic system is international-globalist, and so cannot make inroads in countries where there is a single strong leader and a nation that proudly follows him. This is why Freemasonry always advocated democracy as a leadership system; to provide a foot-in-the-door for a new leader with Masonic aims who will "play ball" with the globalists. The aim is an invisible empire that outwardly resembles free countries, when in fact they are all controlled by the Masonic overlords. This is why, even today, the west acts as if it is entirely justified in attacking countries on the grounds that their system is not democratic. As controlled by Freemasonry, democracy always boils down to an open door to a Satanic government. If the population should vote for the old way of life, as recently happened when NATO occupied Iraq, the Freemasons still have plenty of means of invalidating the election results until their preferred representative is made leader. As long as they can get their foot in the door by staging a regime change and setting up their brand of democracy, they've as good as got control over the country in question. Mind you, all this is about to be changed, just as this prophecy says…

Change can be a double-edged sword, can't it Baphomet? If you could see or hear or walk maybe you could get up from your jewel-encrusted plinth to save your own gold-plated tail, but you can't even do that. Likewise will you be of no help when the Freemasons call upon you to save them from the wrath of the Lord.]

11:19 Then he shall turn his face toward the fort of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, and not be found.

[The Kaiser turned his attention to a severe domestic crisis as WWI ended; the defection of the entire German navy and various workers' unions to communism. As 1919 began a revolution got underway that shattered the German government. Street battles erupted everywhere between leftist communists and rightist conservatives who supported traditionalism and the Kaiser. Despite the fact that the military was eventually able to stabilize the problem, the Kaiser abdicated and fled into anonymity. The Freemasons achieved yet another goal; the king of Germany had been dethroned. A moderate democratic though heavily left-leaning government was then created (mainly to keep the communist extremists from gaining power) which was called the Weimar Republic. This floundered and Germany's economy was annihilated; hyperinflation reached abominable proportions and no one knew what to do…]

11:20 Then shall stand up in his [Britain's] estate a raiser of taxes in the glory of the kingdom:

After World War I, often referred to as the Great War, British taxes did increase significantly. The war had been incredibly costly, and the British government needed to raise substantial funds to cover the expenses. Several tax measures were implemented to generate revenue and manage the national debt. Some of the key tax changes included:

1. Income Tax: The income tax rates were increased, and the number of people subject to income tax grew significantly. The basic rate of income tax rose from 6d in the pound (2.5%) in 1914 to 30% in 1918.
2. Super-Tax: A new super-tax was introduced in 1916, which was an additional tax on higher incomes. This was aimed at the wealthiest individuals.
3. Excess Profits Duty: This tax was levied on the profits of businesses that exceeded their pre-war levels. It was designed to ensure that companies contributed to the war effort.
4. War Savings Certificates: The government encouraged citizens to buy war savings certificates, which were a form of low-risk investment that helped fund the war effort.
5. Increased Indirect Taxes: Various indirect taxes, such as excise duties on alcohol and tobacco, were also increased to generate additional revenue.

These tax measures were part of a broader effort to finance the war and manage the economic consequences that followed. The increased taxation helped the British government to cover the enormous costs of the war, but it also had significant economic and social impacts on the population.

Who instituted these taxes?

Mistral Small 3

The taxes and financial measures implemented in Britain during and after World War I were instituted by the British government, specifically by the Treasury and the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Here are some key figures involved in these decisions:

1. Herbert Henry Asquith: Asquith was the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom from 1908 to 1916. He oversaw the initial stages of the war and the early financial measures, including the introduction of the super-tax in 1916.
2. David Lloyd George: Lloyd George succeeded Asquith as Prime Minister in 1916 and served until 1922. He played a central role in implementing many of the tax measures to finance the war effort.
3. Reginald McKenna: McKenna served as Chancellor of the Exchequer from 1915 to 1916. He was responsible for many of the early financial decisions and tax increases during the war.
4. Andrew Bonar Law: Bonar Law served as Chancellor of the Exchequer from 1916 to 1919. He continued the financial policies initiated by his predecessors and was instrumental in managing the post-war economic challenges.
5. Austen Chamberlain: Chamberlain served as Chancellor of the Exchequer from 1919 to 1921. He dealt with the post-war economic situation, including the need to reduce government spending and manage the national debt.

These individuals, along with other members of the government and the Treasury, worked together to implement the necessary financial measures to fund the war and address the economic consequences that followed.

Neville Chamberlain, brother of Austen Chamberlain mentioned above, who served as Prime Minister of the United Kingdom from 1937 to 1940, implemented significant tax increases, particularly in response to the economic challenges and the escalating international tensions leading up to World War II. Here are some key points regarding his tax policies:

1. Rearmament Spending: One of the primary reasons for tax increases during Chamberlain's tenure was Freemasonry's desire to fund rearmament of British military forces in anticipation of further military action against Germany, as the WWI regime change had resulted in several successive abortive attempts at setting up a new government, and had not gone according to Masonic plans. What was more, suddenly a new and surprisingly thriving government for Germany, the NSDAP, was under the control of a man who was actively warning the populace against Masonic interference in German as well as global politics. This was Adolf Hitler, and his new government was publishing books and even producing movies warning the population of Germany against internationalist-globalist Masonic scheming. These movies rightly predicted that Freemasonry's immediate goal was to attack Germany once more. As the Masonic desire for war with Nazi Germany grew, the British government significantly increased spending on offensive weaponry and military preparedness. This required additional revenue, which was raised in typical Masonic fashion; squeezing it out of Christian civilians in the form of tax increases.
2. Budget of 1937: In his first budget as Chancellor of the Exchequer (a role he held from 1931 to 1937), Neville Chamberlain introduced several arbitrary increases in income tax and other direct taxes. In 1937 the media blitz of slander against the NSDAP really got under way and the German government was accused of perpetrating every crime under the sun in the British press.
3. Budget of 1939: As Freemasonry manipulated the public through factual distortions and outright lies in the media, inciting opinion against the Hitler regime, the prospect of war became more imminent, and Chamberlain's government introduced still further oppressive tax increases to get ready to attack the anti-Masonic predominantly Lutheran and Catholic Germans who dared to believe they had the right to determine their own course of government for their sovereign country.
4. War Budget of 1939: After the outbreak of World War II in September 1939, Chamberlain's government implemented a war budget that included significant tax increases to fund the war effort.

These measures were continued and expanded by his successor, a veritable king of masonic deceptions, named Winston Churchill, as the war progressed.

11:20 (cont.) …but within few days he shall be destroyed, neither in anger, nor in battle.

[Neville Chamberlain was "destroyed" by being publicly disgraced; his famous policy called "appeasement" against Germany was deemed counter-productive by the Masonic press and he was slandered as being "too soft on Hitler". Really, this was done so an aggressive war hawk who owned considerable stock in British weapons manufacturing companies could step into the public limelight and have free reign to drive home the Masonic war against Germany with total ruthlessness.]

11:21 And in his estate shall stand up a vile person, to whom they shall not give the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably, and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.

[Winston Churchill, war profiteer and arch-Mason, whose conspiring with the Freemasonry-controlled media and the power-hungry Polish Emperor Smigly brought about the British declaration of war against Germany, starting WWII. We know from Edgar Cayce that Winston Churchill was guilty of this. Vast evidence available about his Masonic connections and war profiteering additionally confirms it. The NSDAP (National Socialist Workers Party) of Germany advocated solving the hitherto unresolved post-WWI hyperinflation economic crisis through the total mobilization of the collective German workforce. The NSDAP rewarded the cooperation of the workers by including them in the government decision-making process, which made it so that the threat of communism could never make inroads in Germany again through the usual means of subversively exploiting worker dissatisfaction with the system. The workers happily did as they were told and accepted food and rain checks which were soon able to be cashed. The workers were put to work on numerous big projects aimed at jumpstarting the economy. It worked better than expected. Suddenly Germany's economy was doing so well it was outstripping many other countries. The workers and citizens could return to the normalcy of a comfortable way of life after years of virtual famine and poverty in the wake of the austerities of the Great War. The populace was happy and satisfied in their work and the nation thrived as never before. Other European and South American nations began imitating the NSDAP economic model and mobilizing their workforces in the same manner. This resulted in a huge wave of Nationalism in the 1930's which sent the Freemason internationalists into a panic. Germany had shaken off democracy and opted for a single strong leader and the German nation was again under its own control and influencing others to do the same. The Freemasons had to blacken the name of this system as much as possible if they were to succeed at their own aims of world domination. They responded by artificially fabricating the idea of the Jewish Holocaust, inspired by the international outpouring of sympathy and support for the persecuted Armenian Christians who were subjected to genocide during the WWI era. They did this to permanently besmirch the name of Fascism, which was initiated as a political movement of traditionalists in conscious opposition to the emerging liberal-atheist secular-humanist Masonic internationalism which later culminated in globalism and also to simultaneously lay the groundwork of international sympathy for the planned creation of the modern state of Israel. Contrary to popular media slander, Fascists at the time were actually Christian nationalists of various countries attempting to unite against Freemasonry, which they knew was the cause of innumerable strifes and bloody anti-Christian persecutions (The French Revolution, the Armenian Genocide, the Young Turks Movement in Turkey, etc. etc.) and the originators of many modernist antireligious books and ideologies as well as the author of revolutionary bolshevism. I must also mention that a certain American in the 1940's (whose name is withheld), to their credit, grew very suspicious of the way the media suddenly turned blatantly against Nazi Germany in 1937. By that time, the western media was already claiming that Hitler had ordered the mass murders of Jews. Once the war was underway in the mid-forties, the man wrote to Edgar Cayce his suspicions. This man wrote to Cayce and asked for an Edgar Cayce Reading to be done on Adolf Hitler's opinion of the Jewish people. If you know Cayce's reputation for total truthful accuracy, the answer he produced is a real eye-opener. Cayce said that Hitler's views on the Jewish people had mainly been formed from reading the Bible. Hitler felt that they had been God's chosen people but they had gone astray and needed to be led back to the true path to God and realise Jesus was indeed the Messiah.

That was it; no hate, in fact, nothing of the kind.

Cayce then added, "That is the simple truth of the man's feelings on the matter; anything you have heard to the contrary is untruth; for this is PROPAGANDA." (emphasis his.)

All this is not to say that the Nazis were perfect. Cayce later revealed that Adolf Hitler had been spiritually led in his approach to leadership. However, Cayce later said, "Unless the desire for imperialism enters in, and it is beginning to enter in, Hitler's policies will lead to anything BUT war." This was because Hitler's style of government was to listen to what the people generally wanted for Germany and then to implement and actualize their wishes if prudent and feasible. When Germany had been persecuted by Freemasonry for years, the German public began to clamour to retaliate militarily. They advocated forming National Socialist Legions (modelled on the French Foreign Legion) for all kinds of foreign nationals to join so that anyone who wanted to fight against Masonic world domination could flee their country, come to Germany, and enlist in the struggle to take over Masonic-held countries and implement National Socialism instead. These fighting legions quickly became huge, and were incorporated into the Waffen-SS. The different nationalities were each given their own dedicated SS division, complete with tanks, motorized infantry, anti-tank gun batteries, artillery, etc. There were over fifteen foreign SS legions. Among the dedicated nationalities and ethnicities were Italians, French, Belgians, Ukrainians, Bosnian Muslims, Albanians, Croats, Danes, Norwegians, Finns, Sweden, Dutch, and others. It is a little known fact that in 1945 the very last Nazi soldiers killed in the fighting during the final battle for Berlin were found post-mortem to have been a group of Frenchmen of the SS-Charlemagne Division. The universal awareness of the evils of Freemasonry among the international SS legions was the primary reason that the SS were branded a criminal organization during the Nuremberg kangaroo Trials that were held after the war. That they had supposedly committed atrocities was merely an ostensible reason provided to the media in order to justify the SS veterans' universal persecution post war.

So ultimately, military resistance was the wrong path. They spilled blood in war, which is a horrific sin. According to Cayce, NO spilling of blood escapes karma and God's judgement. EVEN IN WAR. The individual is always held accountable for those he wounds and kills! Yet, I have to point out, many westerners are proud of the contribution their forefathers made to fighting in WWII. Even heavy bomber crews who incinerated innocent men, women, and children by the hundreds are proud of their veteran status. What did those men fight to defend? A lie? What did Hitler's men fight to defend? Was it a truth maligned by lies? Hate is always wrong, yes, but the truth must stand as the truth. God accepts no preferred fictions. It is the Freemasons that try to dupe people into thinking the truth is subjective and we're free to pick the truth we like best. There is ONE truth. If you don't value truth, you don't value Jesus; for Jesus said, "I AM TRUTH".

The preferring of lies that are sweet to the ears is cautioned against in numerous places throughout the Bible.]

11:22 And with the arms of a flood shall they be overflown from before him, and shall be broken; yea, also the prince of the covenant.

[The plot to alter the Roman Catholic rites of Mass, resulting in the 1965 heresies of Vatican II, which was born from ecclesiastical Freemasonry, was most likely conceived by British Freemasons. British Freemasons certainly designed the wave of anti-Christian thinking that dominated the Western media since WWII.]

11:23 And after the league made with him he shall work deceitfully: for he shall come up, and shall become strong with a small people.

[The League is the Masonic "Allies" which became NATO. The "small people" is the secret society of Freemasonry.]

11:24 He shall enter peaceably even upon the fattest places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers; he shall scatter among them the prey, and spoil, and riches: yea, and he shall forecast his devices against the strong holds, even for a time.

[The Freemasons secretly created a network of various money-laundering apparatus to embezzle money from the taxpayers of Western countries. This is the conspiracy that has a "common purse" mentioned in Psalms 1 and elsewhere in the Bible. This is why Jesus warned everyone against the taking of oaths; to caution against Freemasonry. The Masons are naturally named for the ancient stone masons who would cut stones to shape in order to build with them. Freemasonry does just this through the subversion-by-increments of their initiates, who are increasingly bamboozled with contrived medals and titles to celebrate their conformity to the cause by stroking their egotism and sense of elitism. They are also invited to partake of truly Satanic indulgences. Although Prince George was the metastasizing of Britain's Masonic cancer, Freemasonry has existed since time immemorial. When the Bible speaks of Jesus being tempted by the devil in the desert, was it perhaps an allegory for Freemasons of the day attempting to recruit him? Perhaps attempting to corrupt him into joining them in one of their secret initiation rituals? Naturally, Jesus won, and retained 100% of His morality. "The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner." (Matt 21:42)Jesus is the stone that these builders were unable to mould to suit them, and so they rejected him. Note that in Daniel, which we are here studying, Nebuchadnezzar's dream about "the final evil empire" (Dan 2:35 & 2:45) culminates in a mountainous cut stone that increases in size and smashes all other empires of the earth.

This symbol is Freemasonry. But the prophesy says that the Lord will topple them as the Messiah returns.]

11:25 And he [Britain] shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south [Nazi Germany] with a great army; and the king of the south [Nazi Germany] shall be stirred up to battle with a very great and mighty army; but he [Nazi Germany] shall not stand: for they [Britain] shall forecast devices against him.

[To "forecast devices" presumably means to use conspiracy and media propaganda to attack and sabotage. In this case, it refers to the lies about the Holocaust which were employed in the newspapers to motivate people to take up arms against Germany and their socio-economic system, forever painting it with a blackening brush and making Nazism anathema, even to this day, which was the Masonic aim. (There is more about this in two of my other books; Discerning Masonic Subversion and The Sevenfold Doctrine: the Edgar Cayce Interpretation of the Revelation. Again, these are free on Internet Archive.)

As these bizarre events were unfolding, the public was at a loss to understand what was actually going on. Amazingly, as the Second World War got underway, someone wrote to Edgar Cayce asking, "What are we to make of all the warfare that is suddenly cropping up everywhere? What is going on in the world??" His answer was something of great interest to us here; he replied, "Read the Book of Daniel." (!)

This also confirms that we are on the right track here in a big way!

Let's continue…]

11:26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of his meat shall destroy him, and his army shall overflow: and many shall fall down slain.

The overflowing army is the massive strategic-scale pincer movement of Russia to the east and Britain and America to the West, who swamped Europe with invasion and endless numbers of troops and tanks until Berlin was finally taken. After that, all of Germany's great scientists and technologies were "gobbled up" by America and Russia, which then "fed of the victim's meat" so to speak (This via Operation Paperclip; the wholesale enslavement of German scientists, physicists, and technicians against their will in the immediate postwar years by the allies.), and accelerated the rapid progress of technological development in postwar years leading to a nuclear arms race, and other notables.]

11:27 And both [Britain & Russia] of these kings' hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table [The famous media-publicised meetings between Stalin and Churchill where they discussed the need to destroy the artificially contrived "Nazi evil".]; but it shall not prosper: for yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

11:28 Then shall he [Churchill] return into his land with great riches [from his prolific war profiteering]; and his heart shall be against the holy covenant; and he shall do exploits, and return to his own land.

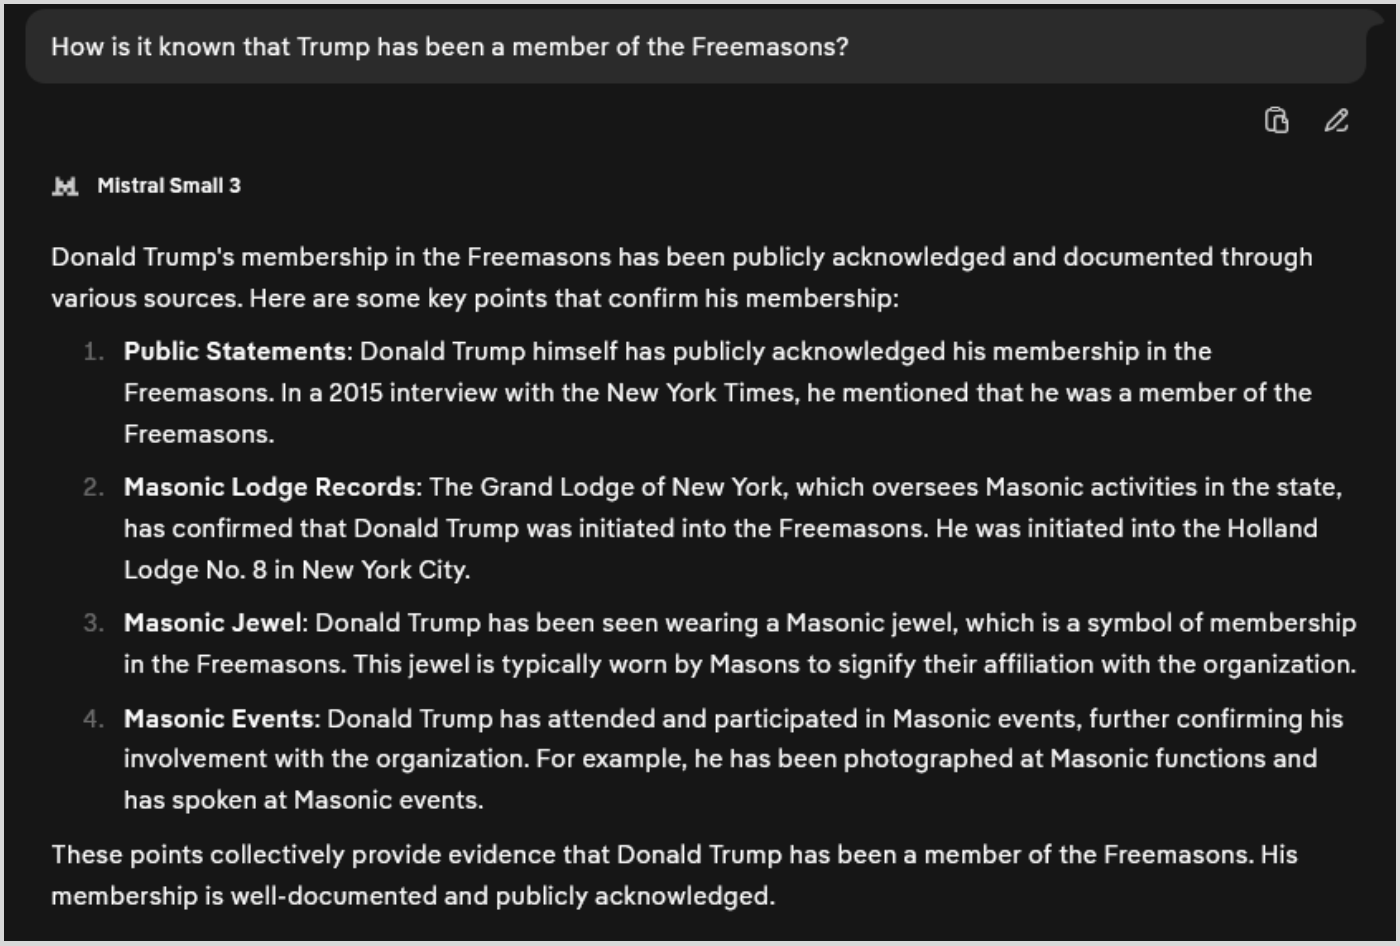
11:29 At the time appointed [This means we are jumping forward in time now…] he [NATO, the "King of the North", the Masonic-controlled North Atlantic Treaty Organization] shall return, and come toward the south; but it shall not be as the former [The Kaiser's Germany], or as the latter [Nazi Germany]. [It is now "The Global South" AKA "B.R.I.C.S." (B*razil-*R*ussia-*I*ndia-*C*hina-*S*outh Africa*), initiated by Russia.]

11:30 For the ships of Chittim [Cyprus? America over Greenland? See below…] shall come against him [NATO Freemasonry]: therefore he shall be grieved, and return, and have indignation against the holy covenant: so shall he do; he shall even return, and have intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant. [Vatican II]

[Chittim: In Josephus' Antiquities of the Jews, he states that "Kittim" (A variant spelling of Chittim) was the Island Cyprus and was long ago named Kittim after the city Ketion which was on that island. However, the 1912 edition of the Jewish Encyclopaedia adds that the phrase "Isles of Kittim", as it is used in Jeremiah 2:10 and Ezekiel 27:6 indicates that "Kittim" signified not Cyprus but all the isles and coastlines off to the west from Israel, generally. This definition could conceivably even extend to North America, since those of Daniel's time would have had no specific place name to use as an alternative, if in fact someplace in North America was meant... Therefore this could conceivably work for NATO becoming extremely annoyed with Donald Trump defying them (and some say betraying them) over the Greenland issue. As I write this, today's date is February 10th, 2026; today the Russian news service TASS has reported that NATO is to launch their "Arctic Sentry" mission within days. Will the Freemason Trump send American ships to counter the British fleet? This ties in with Trump possibly being the "little horn" of Daniel 7:8 and 8:9. Note that this "little horn" corresponds to one of the ten horns who "hate the whore" of Babylon (which is Freemasonry) in Revelation 17:16, and who proceed to "Kill her with death, and burn her with fire". (See my book on the Revelation for more about that.)]



As a Freemason, Donald Trump is the enemy of Christ until he repents of his involvement. Although Trump is a Freemason, he personally objects to homosexuals and Feminism, and had America withdrawn from UN organizations designed to raise money and pander global propaganda for these two agendas. Although he has utilized Masonic connections to get to where he is today, and he is constrained to cooperate with them on numerous issues, we are still seeing him attempting to assert his own views over what he thinks is right, along with his apparently patriotic effort to "make America great again". His persecution of immigrants is also singularly un-Masonic, as they usually encourage a totally open-door policy to foreigners in accord with internationalism. However, patriotism and traditionalism are the last things internationalist-globalist Freemasonry usually pushes. Could it be that in Trump we are finally seeing a Freemason who dares to retain his own views despite their conditioning and resents the perverse agendas of his secret society…? Usually freemasons are moulded to tow the party line completely, as their policy seeks to suppress the holding of personal viewpoints and encourages the members to conform to policy 100%. Interestingly, this is even referred to in Revelation 17:13:

[12] And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast. [13] These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast. [14] These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful.

- Revelation 17 : 12-14

11:31 And arms shall stand on his part, and they shall pollute the sanctuary of strength, and shall take away the daily sacrifice [This is a reference to the forcible changing of the Holy Mass said by the Catholic Church by Vatican II. Freemasons infiltrated the Catholic Church at the highest level and in 1965 had the ritual of Holy Mass watered down into a heretical version; a false mass. This was ramrodded through by claiming that the original mass was "offensive" to people like idolaters and Muslims, and that the modern rise of secular humanism (which was itself completely Masonic-induced) demanded that the mass be changed into a more "inclusive" version that was more "sensitive" to idolaters and heathens. This unbelievable corruption of our Christian faith was only the beginning of the systematic blasphemies committed by the Masonic Vatican II cult, whose entire aim was to gradually discredit Catholicism in every conceivable way so as to destroy Christ's Holy Church by driving its adherents away. The Freemasons believed that as long as Christianity exists, it will oppose them every step of the way in trying to create a one world government dedicated to Satanism. One of their earliest stated goals, if not the entire reason for their existence, is the destruction of Jesus Christ's Catholic Church. This is the real reason why only Catholics are barred from joining the Freemasons. Incidentally, I feel obliged to point out Malachi 1:7 - "Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the LORD is contemptible." And, Malachi 1:12 "But ye have profaned it, in that ye say, The table of the LORD is polluted; and the fruit thereof, his meat, is contemptible. {1:13} Ye said also, Behold, what a weariness is it!"{2:10} Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers? {2:12} The LORD will cut off the man that doeth this."]

Daniel 11:31 (cont.) …and they shall place the abomination that maketh desolate.

[The abomination of desolation is most likely the literal overt desolations by war (destruction) that will soon come to the Holy sites of the Holy Land. Many prophesies, taken together, seem to indicate that once Israel is attacked and actually invaded by their regional enemies, those enemies will then defile all the holy sites of Israel in an attempt to cut off the Jews from having any attachment to the place; they will blow up and desolate the Dome of the Rock, the Wailing Wall, The Cave of the Patriarchs, etc…

Islamic militants angry enough to invade Israel will certainly jump at the chance to smash and desolate all the famous Holy sites in Jerusalem. However, once they get to the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, the prophecy of Jesus will be fulfilled; the sun will go black… A great earthquake will split the Holy City in three parts… This was also prophesized in the Book of Enoch, in which the House of the Messiah will be rendered into pieces that are carried off to the south… But right after this the Messiah himself will then return, bringing a magnificent new building greater than the first; this is what Jews and Christians know as the prophesised city of New Jerusalem.

As in Revelation, the Lord has a beautiful way of making his prophesies come true both symbolically and literally simultaneously. (Please see the present author's book The Sevenfold Doctrine: The Edgar Cayce Interpretation of the Revelation for more about that fascinating quality of Christian prophecy.) If this is also the case in regard to the famous "abomination of desolation" of Daniel, then a double meaning could easily be the symbolic abomination (read: idol) of secular humanism as a substitute for Jesus that made the churches empty ("desolate") by presenting to the public an alternative atheistic false morality and popularizing it through continual propaganda in every aspect of life in every Masonic-controlled country.

Yes, this is the Masonic origin of "political correctness" propaganda.]

11:32 And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he corrupt by flatteries [The Freemasons award promotion through the degrees to those who sell themselves out more and more to immorality. Someone only a little against Jesus will be encouraged, through a barrage of honorary titles and exalted awards, to become more and more blasphemously hostile to normal morality and Jesus Christ, and more and more open to Satanism, as they are incrementally groomed to think of themselves as accomplished, elite, and sophisticated for doing so by the organization. A strong sense of superiority over common everyday people makes an egotist wish to remain in the Freemasons, and being rewarded with record deals, an acting career, or arbitrarily placed into a powerful position of state, keeps the upper-echelon from ever divulging to the public that a 33° Mason is necessarily a worshipper of Lucifer and Baphomet. Such Masons can pitch ideas to one another through arrangements with other lodges to fulfil their selfish dreams. Of course, the fulfilment of these dreams are expected to be made to further the aims of the organization somehow. This is how, for example, Jeff Lynn can get Roy Orbison, Bob Dylan, and some of the Beatles to record an album with him. Of course, the album has to be loaded up with Masonic propaganda, and so it is. This is just one example. "Oh tell me where your freedom lies" sang Jim Morrison of the Doors; this song, "The Crystal Ship", is just another Masonic manifesto of hedonism and self-indulgence and the hate they have for moral everyday people who just want to live in a stable, peaceful, traditional society without being trampled on by a cabal of self-fixated deviants. 33° Masons are obliged to take part in an Easter ritual every year that involves blaspheming the name of Jesus Christ as they conduct a parody of a Catholic Mass -essentially a black mass - while passing around a skull out of which they drink wine in taking communion with death and Satan. One member who carried out this ritual and then returned to his family on Easter Sunday to attend church could no longer endure the sickness of the double-life he was leading. He wrote to the organization and withdrew. He then repented to Jesus Christ of ever getting involved in the Freemasons. This is the right thing to do, because Christ can forgive anyone he wishes. The story of the prodigal son assumes that sin will be forgiven when the sinner returns to the fold. There is forgiveness for those who are truly repentant. If you are involved in the Masons you do not have much longer to make up your mind. The writing is on the wall and the fig tree Jesus spoke about is plainly coming into leaf; it is Written in the Book of Enoch that when the final war erupts in Jerusalem and the world converges upon the Holy Land to make war, the Lord will say, "AND FROM HENCEFORTH I SHALL HAVE NO MERCY ON THEM."

Freemasonry is the devil's church. Mormons may have by now realized that this is what their founder Joseph Smith referred to when he said there was a church of Jesus and a church of the devil that operated right alongside it invisibly. He should know, because he was a Freemason himself. Mormons are encouraged to surmise that the devil's church might be Catholicism, but this is exactly what the Masons want to destroy and such thinking does the Masons' work for them. Divide and conquer may have been the original goal in founding Mormonism. But as long as you truly love Jesus you have not to fear. "The Catholic Church", as Edgar Cayce said, "IS indeed the true church of Jesus Christ in this world but not the ROMAN Catholic Church! The True Catholic Church, rather, is inside YOU!" Cayce then went on to say that no man is allowed to presume he has any God-given religious authority to exercise control over, or enforce his opinion on, any body of believers. So much for the worthless excommunications issued by Vatican II! They are null and void and will assuredly count against them at the Judgement. The best thing that Vatican II could do now (apart from disbanding and repenting, of course!) is to keep their mouths shut when it comes to attempting to coerce real Christian people to obey them and respect their corrupt apostate rites and haughtily arrogant pronouncements.

NATO has enlisted and exalted everyone who hates Jesus in a Masonic coalition against Christianity. They will soon come to their end, as we are just about to find out in this prophesy… ]: but the people that do know their God shall be strong, and do exploits.

[The Eternal Life of the Bible is continual reincarnation in a Kingdom ruled by God ON EARTH; a Holy Kingdom fore to come called New Jerusalem. This is the First Resurrection. Most Christians seem to think the point of Christianity is simply that if we are good we go to heaven when we die. This is a gross misunderstanding. Study the Bible and you will see that nothing makes sense unless reincarnation is continually being referenced; this explains all of God's assertions that we have repeatedly turned our backs on him since the days in the Garden when our souls were young.

An excellent example is Jeremiah 2 : 2; "Go and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD; I remember thee, the kindness of thy youth, the love of thine espousals, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness, in a land that was not sown."

Jeremiah appears to suggest that we wandered away from God, were later reincarnated, and as idolaters and pagans and apostates we only ever sought to indulge our various lusts. This is why, in the Book of Jeremiah, God seems to ask us, "Why do you continually say, "I never did those things; I don't remember that", when you did?"

We collectively overlooked the reincarnation indicated in numerous places in the Bible and it was somehow lost by the wayside during the crystallization of Christian dogma. The early Christian thinker Origen of Alexandria recognized that Christ referred to reincarnation at numerous points in his teachings. Origen was a prolific writer, theologian, and scholar who lived in the 3rd century. He is known for his extensive commentaries on the Bible, his grasp of subtleties, and his significant contributions to early Christian thought. Origen attempted to get early church fathers to recognize that Jesus taught reincarnation, but his observations fell on deaf ears; they could not understand and simply reacted by ostracising Origen! Edgar Cayce was sent to us to reintroduce this Truth to Christians. Edgar Cayce repeatedly said, "God is the God of the LIVING! -NOT the God of the dead!" implying that those who love Him always live again. The Book of Enoch says, "Ye righteous (of the days of tribulation); if the wicked shall slay you and you find yourself in Sheol, ye have not to fear." -This is because you will be reincarnated shortly into the LORD's beautiful Kingdom on Earth - New Jerusalem.

Remember, what God and Jesus are offering you is not "Eternity in Heaven"; it is ALWAYS referred to as "ETERNAL LIFE". It is Evil people who exalt themselves who the Bible says are "like smoke" and "like wind", this is because they won't be reincarnated any more after the End Times. The End Times is the end only for THEM. The Book of Enoch is even specifically dedicated to "Those righteous who will be living in the day of tribulation when the wicked and the Godless are to be REMOVED." The kind, soft-hearted people who emulate

Jesus will have Eternal Life on this Earth in New Jerusalem! The Kingdom of Heaven that Jesus referred to is, yes, not only a physical New Jerusalem on earth, but also God's heaven. But that is to come much later; The Book of Enoch says that after living in the City of the Messiah for thousands of years, the Righteous and the Lord and the Messiah will all move together up to the kingdom of Heaven (which Edgar Cayce said was a higher dimensional plane) to continue on their existence together there, and the earth, no longer needed, will be "marked down for destruction".

God is the ONLY God. Many people have gone astray worshipping anything but our CREATOR, only because they prefer a falsehood that grants free licence to ignore what others need from us so we can feel justified in selfishly indulging in vanity, self-exultation, or whatever vice we are addicted to at the moment. The modern person wants to shut out distractions and focus on HIMSELF. This kind of thinking only leads to misery because selfishness can never bring peace; just the opposite; trying to appease diverse lusts only makes a person more and more agitated. It breeds continual discontent and sews conflicts with others. It preoccupies people with fixating on corruptible, temporal, transient things which ultimately do not benefit us no matter how much we wallow in them. This is a terrible error.

Example:

I once knew an average guy named Pete who had a normal job and a wife and kids, and a fairly easy-going personality, but whose defence-mechanism against stress was to shut himself away and play video-games in which he could level-up by violently dismembering other characters in battle. Initially, he seemed to have a good relationship with his wife and kids. Then he bought a computer. He got stress from work so as soon as he got home he would dive into playing video games. Soon he was spending every spare moment playing games. His wife Jennifer felt marginalized and resented his selfishness, which only created more perceived stress for him. Eventually he began simply ignoring his wife and kids whenever they would speak to him no matter what they said. He neglected introspection and relationships with others to continually engage in his favourite pastime. Unfortunately his defence mechanism made his home life so miserable he relied on it more and more. Finally, if he was not playing video games, he was in absolute anguish and turmoil inside. He became an utterly negative person. The story gets still worse; his wife, despising him and filled with hate, but not wanting to divorce because of the children in their lives, actually turned to witchcraft in an attempt to get control over the situation. Soon I found the coven she had joined had such a corrupting influence on her that she was perversely delighting in any malignant thing she could do to subtly sabotage others. I finally had to cease attempting to help and walk away from the situation. Here, a case of selfishness consumed not only one man but also created fallout that bled over and corrupted his wife too. This is the kind of metastasizing cancer that NATO Masonic propaganda implants in people who watch its media. Pete was seduced by the illusion of forcefully asserting himself over others that the video game allowed his ego to experience. Jennifer was corrupted by an obsession with the film “The Craft” that demonstrates the power of witchcraft, and entices people by inviting their ego to glorify in the sophomoric mystique of being perceived by others as a witch.

Thus we see that continually indulging the ego only makes people more and more agitated. It is probably this very truism that has led to the bizarre trend of school-shootings in NATO countries.

Conversely, when we relentlessly neglect our personal egotism and focus instead on making other people happy regardless of how they treat us, a beautiful thing happens. We end up being treated very very well by others. People like us, they listen to us, they value us in their lives. They truly love us. This is the secret of contentment. This is the secret of happiness. Is this not what Jesus' teachings were trying to get us to realize all along…?

The Revelation of John tells us that, "those who do not worship the beast (the ego) stand on the sea of glass, having the harps of God." This is symbolic of the profound serenity and peace in the soul of someone who has methodically cultivated an abiding caring and loving concern for others in his heart.

Do you see now why egotism is actualized Satanism?

Do you not see the Masonic media of NATO continually inculcating egotism into the hearts of its viewers in every little thing they show us? NATO is the prophesized antichrist Babylon that Jews and Christians have been watching for since Daniel warned us about it over 2,600 years ago. How did we miss it until now?

Selflessness combined with reverence for the CREATOR and his salvation, Jesus, is what brings peace. There is no approaching the Father without the Son. The cultivation of ideals and morals is what we are here for. The purpose of the earth has always been the ennoblement of human souls down through their successive reincarnations in a refining process that is like unto the ripening of a fruit. The scriptures and Edgar Cayce affirm for us that we are to focus our minds on the cultivation of noble ideals; selflessness and kindness; altruism and devotion to making others happy. The scriptures and Edgar Cayce confirm for us that these ideals and morals, if not our memories, are that which is incorruptible. It is these qualities that carry over from incarnation to incarnation and are slowly refined to perfection. You will always have your morals and your sheer conscious awareness. There is no death in Jesus Christ! Jesus Christ is the model we are to emulate; our goal to attain to. The soul lies in another dimension. Our brains are not the seat of our personalities any more than they are the storage unit for our memories. The brain, and the endocrine system, were organs made by God to serve as anchor points to our bodies for our souls to adhere to so that we may express ourselves and learn ennoblement as we live out a life on the earth plane. The brain is a manifold apparatus that facilitates the physical manifestation of an extra-dimensional entity: YOU.]

11:33 And they that understand among the people shall instruct many: yet they shall fall by the sword, and by flame, by captivity, and by spoil, many days.

[We must not glory in what we know; only in that we know the Lord. We have a duty to help others learn.

Just for the record I am not suicidal. It is completely anathema to me to conceive of murdering someone or sexually molesting anyone. The next time the media tells you that a Christian molested children and/or murdered some people, consider the way the devil's men would dispose of their enemies; they would do it while killing two birds with one stone. Not only will they destroy him, they will blacken his aims just as they blacken his name in an attempt to efface his life's work of trying to help other people spiritually connect with Jesus Christ.]

11:34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little help: but many shall cleave to them with flatteries.

[Does the above line not sound eerily like someone who is addicted to engaging in social media?

ISAIAH 57:13} "When thou criest, let thy companies deliver thee; but the wind shall carry them all away; vanity shall take them] but he that putteth his trust in me shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain; {57:14} And shall say, Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumblingblock out of the way of my people. {57:15} For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy; I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones."

JDB: People today seem to labour only to be seen of others so they can exalt themselves. Social media is becoming a colossal trap for human souls; cultivating vanity and enslaving people to it. Women are being corrupted by their own beauty. The less beautiful are being corrupted to be vain out of envy. The egotist thinks himself the master of wit, labouring daily to remain in the limelight. Will they still be working towards this even as the plagues of the Revelation are scourging the world? Will they be taking selfies beside the fountain that has turned to blood in an attempt to get "likes", rather than reflecting on the meaning of a God-given omen?

Turn away from the internet and give your attention to the Word of the Lord that is incorruptible and shall add some permanent salt to your soul and strengthen your ideals!

HABAKKUK 2:13} "Behold, is it not of the LORD of hosts that the people shall labour in the very fire, and the people shall weary themselves for very vanity?"

Christians, when you act, don't act to be seen. Act to be of real help to others. This is why Jesus said to do our charitable giving in secret; to sidestep any shred of pride or egotism. The choice Jesus puts before us is self vs. selfless. It's one or the other; life or death.

"He who would exalt himself must be put away."

-Edgar Cayce.

"Whoever of you shall be chiefest, shall be servant of all."

- Jesus.

The exaltation of the self is utterly anathema to God and Jesus; it is the total inversion of selfLESSness, which is the core of Jesus' teachings; self-denial and meekness.

ZEPHANIAH 2:3} "Seek ye the LORD, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the LORD's anger".]

11:35 And some of them of understanding shall fall, to try them, and to purge, and to make them white, even to the time of the end: because it is yet for a time appointed.

[Masonic subversion has deliberately placed all manner of stumblingblocks before Christianity and here in the End Times we are wading through an oceanic minefield being tested in the crucible of God to prove ourselves worthy of citizenship in His peaceful, supportive, and beautifully harmonious kingdom. So many supposed Christians are totally preoccupied with movies, collectables, and social media that I wonder how many will even take a minute to read this book, the resolution to a mystery given to us over 2,600 years ago by the Lord God Himself. The Christians of old time would have clamoured in masses to give ear, but the Christians of today…? Many of understanding have indeed fallen away.]

11:36 And the king [The aforementioned "King of the North", that is, Masonic NATO] shall do according to his will; and he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak marvellous things against the God of gods, and shall prosper till the indignation be accomplished: for that that is determined shall be done.

[NATO style Freemasonry is Satanism; it's media encourages self-aggrandizement, self-indulgence, and the assertion of personal freedom and expressions of self above all else, leading to the fall of the soul and the fall of society as all of us fall into conflict with one-another. This is the shaping of such extravagance of freedom that one can destroy one's soul in self-revelry; literally, Free-Masonry. Anton LaVey, founder of the Church of Satan in 1969 wrote The Satanic Bible. Right on the first page it says, "Satanism represents selfishness and indulgence!"

People who work for NATO, live in NATO countries, or worse; fight in NATO militaries, sadly often have no idea that they are the deceived and blinded servitors of a Satanic Empire prophesized in the Bible.]

Europe's transgender policies will lead to serious tragedy — top lawmaker

Vyacheslav Volodin noted that in almost 20 European countries, there are no age or medical restrictions for gender transition

MOSCOW, February 16. /TASS/. The decisions of European politicians regarding gender affirmation issues and the expansion of transgender rights will lead to a great tragedy, State Duma Chairman Vyacheslav Volodin stated on Monday.

"In October 2025, the European Commission presented a strategy outlining a course to abolish any age restrictions and medical conditions for gender transition. Today, in almost 20 European countries, there are none, or they are minimal. There's no need to explain how this will end. All these decisions will lead to a serious tragedy," Volodin wrote on his Max channel.

He noted that a few days ago, the European Parliament held debates on whether only biological women can become pregnant and give birth to children. "The voting results on this issue once again demonstrated the level of madness and degradation. The majority of the European Parliament believes that not only women, but also men can become pregnant (by recognizing transgender women as women and granting them equal rights and opportunities)," the State Duma chairman added.

According to Volodin, "a step toward complete moral decay" was also made in England, where schools received guidelines obliging teachers to address children as young as four according to the gender that reflects their identity.

"This European madness and obsession, unfortunately, will not stop. As long as the current politicians remain in power there — politicians who document their plans for the further transformation of people into surrogates in official documents," Volodin emphasized.

11:37 Neither shall he [NATO] regard the God of his fathers [Jesus], nor the desire of women [he will continually advocate gays and transsexuals instead], nor regard any god: for he shall magnify himself above all [in egotism/Satanism].

11:38 But in his estate shall he [Masonic NATO] honour the god of forces [Baphomet]:

[Note: Versions of the Bible that were created and circulated by Freemason subverters replace the word "forces" here in Daniel with the word "fortresses" so as to totally conceal their god and sabotage your understanding of the scriptures that OUR God placed before you to warn you. That they would do this was foretold in the Book of Enoch, in which it is warned that in latter days the wicked would pervert the scriptures, distorting the words of the prophets, and tell lies about their meanings, so as to deceive the righteous and the faithful. This is the sole reason that so much falsehood has been said on the internet of late trying to besmirch the reputation of the Holy and perfect King James Bible. The KJV is the only English Bible we can trust. Many others are deliberately changed. With what you have learned here, the phrase "New International Version" should fill you with a newfound horror.

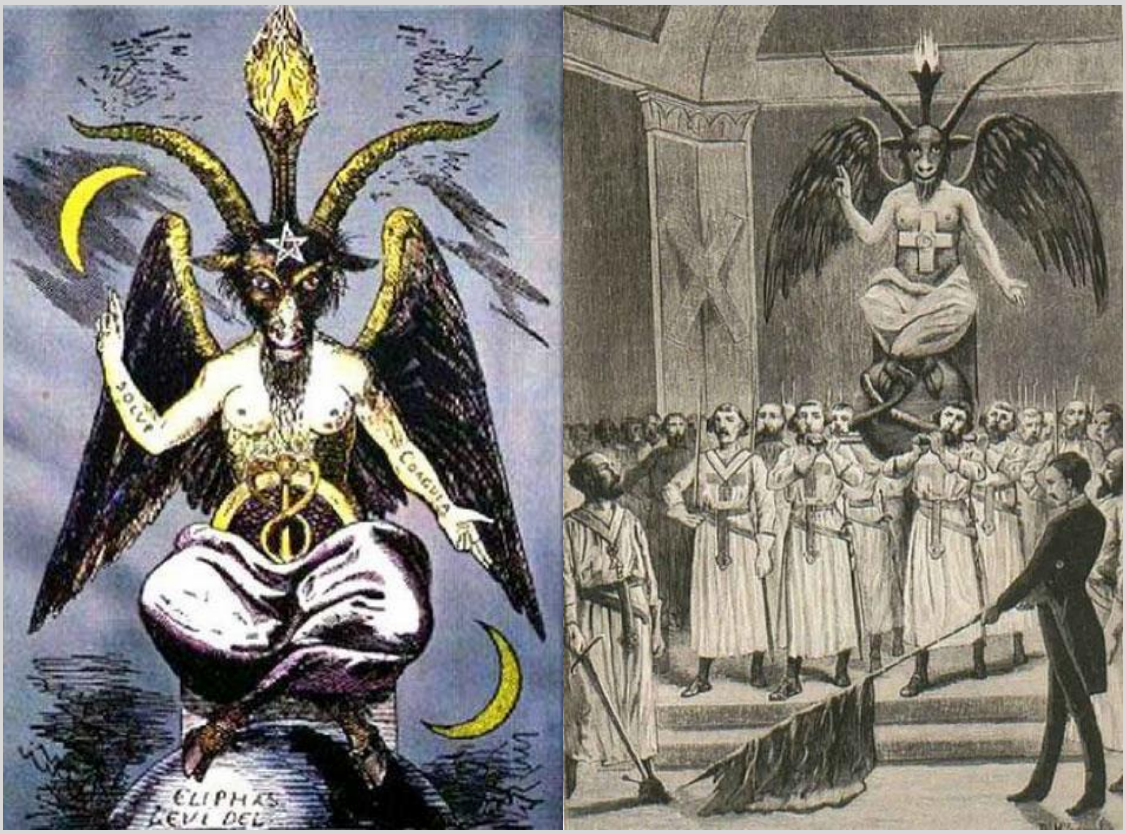
Baphomet is expressly the god of forces; he represents the forces of 'coagulation' and 'dissolution', and has those words written in Latin on his forearms. He theoretically coagulates Satanic Masonic ideology while dissolving Christian power and society. Freemason Eliphas Levi is generally credited with inventing this IDOL that the Freemasons worship, but it may possibly be older. Some say it was worshipped by the Knights Templar, and in fact, it still is:

My mother's father was a 33° Freemason. He belonged to an exclusive club in the Masonic organization that was itself called Knights Templar.

His wife was a feminist zealot and "arch-matron" of Annie Bessant's Order of the Eastern Star for the whole of the central United States. As you can imagine they made my mother's life a continual happy delight. One of her sisters is still involved in this cult and actually thinks we don't know what she's been up to.



This repugnant abomination is the "god of forces" referred to in Daniel 11:38.
The Baphomet cult is the origin of all the transsexual boosterism and homosexual propaganda
That NATO countries inflict upon their unwitting populations.

Eastern Star hamstrings young Christian women, gradually turning them to Baphomet worship as they progress up the degrees. At the lowest stages, initiates are taught that women should only bother studying the books of the Bible that were written by women, saying that supposedly all they need to know is contained therein. Right off the bat they have subverted girls into overlooking all of the Bible's prophecies so they will never discover that the Lord has specifically attempted to warn us about this deceptive Masonic cult through verses exactly like Daniel 11:38.]

…and a god whom his fathers knew not [Baphomet] shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things. [Remember what Baphomet represents. In short, it is the reason why Freemasonry attempts to turn society inside out and upside down; turning women into men and men into women; turning heterosexuals into homosexuals and Christians into Satanists…

Freemasons believe that people subvert themselves by falling for Masonic deceptions, and that Masons themselves will not ultimately be held accountable by the Lord. However, Isaiah the prophet has some sad news for them:

Isaiah 29 : 15-16} "Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the LORD, and their works are in the dark, and they say, Who seeth us? and who knoweth us? [16] Surely your turning of things upside down shall be esteemed [thought of] as the potter's clay: for shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not? or shall the thing framed say of him that framed it, He had no understanding?"]*

11:39 Thus shall he [NATO] do in the most strong holds [MASONIC TEMPLES] with a strange god [Baphomet], whom he shall acknowledge and increase with glory:

and he shall cause them to rule over many [Britain, USA, Canada, France, Poland, Spain, Portugal, Germany, Hungary, Bulgaria, Italy, Norway, Finland, Turkey, and all of NATO's neo-colonial holdings, such as Venezuela.], and shall divide the land for gain.

[For example, invading Venezuela under a false pretence in order to get control over their oil.

Another example is that just before WWII, Britain conducted a surprise attack and invasion of Iraq (who had just finally been awarded real independence from Britain after decades of British domination) simply to acquire oil resources for the Allied military so they could be sure to win the war they started to make arch-Mason Winston Churchill rich off of munitions profiteering. …And of course to bump off an ideological rival that was aware of Freemasonry's malefic scheming at the same time. Nevermind that thousands of women and children would be firebombed; in fact, Churchill famously stated that the Allies aim while attacking Germany "should be to kill as many Germans as possible; men, women, and children - let no one survive". This made no sense to people at the time, but in retrospect we know that Freemasonry feared German citizens, alerted to the threat of Freemasonry by Nazi public service announcements and cautionary films, would inform the next generation regarding the Masonic internationalist agenda Hitler had tried to warn everyone about back before the defeat of the NSDAP…]

11:40 And at the time of the end [The End Times] shall the king of the south [*BRICS - "The Global South" / Russia, Iran, China, etc.] push at him [NATO]: and the king of the north [*NATO - North Atlantic Treaty Organization] shall come against him [BRICS] like a whirlwind, with chariots [attack helicopters, tanks…], and with horsemen [APCs, Jeeps…], and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and shall overflow and pass over.

[Here, I would like to point out that this portion of the prophecy refers to Gog and Magog and again ties in to the Revelation. The Book of Jubilees tells us that the sons of Japheth migrated from Israel far to the northeast. There is a description of mountain ranges, rivers, and seas, and the region settled by the sons of Japheth named Gog and Magog and their decedents is indeed actually known. The truth of this is that Gog is Western Europe and Magog is the Ukraine. The son of Magog named Gomer founded a city that is presently called Dnieper "near the sea of Me'at" which is known to be the Sea of Azov that borders Ukraine. That these Biblical prophesies of the end times refer to a cataclysm happening in the midst of a war involving Europe (NATO) and the Ukraine should strike a jarring alarm bell for us!

Why does NATO seem to irrationally hate and despise Russia so venomously all of a sudden? Things were fine just a few years ago…

Is it really because, as we have frequently heard, "the military-industrial complex simply requires an enemy to keep the economy going"…?

No, this is a flimsy lie commonly deployed to misdirect people.

The fact is, Russia and NATO are practicing two different versions of Freemasonry:

- NATO Freemasonry emerged in its final form a little over a hundred and twenty years ago when British Luciferian Freemasonry and French revolutionary/anarchist Freemasonry came to an agreement to combine forces and unite against Catholicism and patriotism in all its forms. The eventual goal is a one-world government dedicated to Satan from which all other spirituality has been purged the world over. NATO endorses Baphomet worship among its leaders, witchcraft and Satanism for the masses, militant individualism, sexual hedonism, materialism, promiscuity, transvestism, homosexuality, same-sex marriage, militant feminism, and attempts to corrupt women at every turn so they will become religious and societal destabilizing factors. (see my book Why Freemasonry Invented Feminism for a detailed explanation) NATO Freemasonry has only contempt for the notion of the sovereign independent country. Their policy is to relentlessly subjugate all unaligned countries to NATO style Freemasonry's invisible control, and this is why they continually harass North Korea, Venezuela, Columbia, Cuba, Iran, and China (Freemasonry is banned in China).

- Russia's version of Freemasonry emerged in the late 1980's as the old Communist Soviet system died. Masonic temples were then opened in Russia, but no one wanted destabilizing factors. They purged Masonic doctrine to make it optimal for rebuilding Russia's society and economy. Russian Masonry is largely focussed on creating and arranging economic connections and stability; it rejects Satanism and embraces the Russian Orthodox Church instead. Russian Freemasonry endorses traditional lifestyles and heterosexual normalcy such as marriage between a man and a woman. Homosexual advocacy groups are actually illegal and are banned. Many western social media platforms are banned and recognized as extremist because the corporations themselves prolifically develop fake posts (ostensibly posted by the public) intended to shape minds and promote and popularize NATO-style Masonic ideology. Russian Freemasonry still promotes other questionable Masonic concepts that originated with NATO though; such as the artificial equalizing of gender representation, Sustainable Development Goals, AI, and promoting Masonic-member corporate interests and mega-trade over small business owners. Seventh-Day Adventists are banned there because they reject patriotism, and Russian policy is to advocate patriotism. Russian-style Freemasonry DOES have respect for the notion of the sovereign independent country. Russian Masonry has revised the basic Masonic idea of brotherly love into a system of accepting independent countries for what they are and working with them while letting them be what they will in the interest of promoting understanding, peace, and trading partners. (Whereas NATO uses the idea of brotherly love subversively; as a secular-humanist alternative for the morals presented to us by Jesus Christ.)

Who really caused the war in Ukraine?

West's role in bloody coup in Ukraine must be remembered — Peskov

Russian Presidential Spokesman Dmitry Peskov
© Sergey Bulkin/TASS

MOSCOW, February 15. /TASS/. The bloody coup in Ukraine was orchestrated by the West, and it is important not to forget this, Russian presidential spokesman Dmitry Peskov said in an interview with TASS.

"After 2014, everything changed. Events in Europe, in Eastern Europe, in Ukraine. The organization of a violent, bloody state coup in Ukraine by Western countries with the direct participation of the US, the UK, France, and Germany — all of them took part in organizing this coup and we must remember this," the Kremlin spokesman stressed.

In 2014, a coup took place in Ukraine following a three-month standoff between supporters and opponents of European integration, which became known as the "Euromaidan." President Viktor Yanukovych was removed from power. The population of the southeastern regions, predominantly Russian-speaking, refused to support Ukraine's new authorities. A referendum was organized in Crimea, and as a result, in March 2014 Crimea and Sevastopol were reunified with Russia.

In the spring of 2014, the self-proclaimed Donetsk and Lugansk People's Republics, not controlled by Kiev, were declared in the Donetsk and Lugansk regions. In response, the Ukrainian authorities accused the population of Donbass of "separatism" and launched a military operation in the region, which escalated into full-scale hostilities. Over the eight years of the armed conflict, around 14,000 people were killed.

The truth about the war in the Ukraine is this: NATO and Russia had an agreement to keep a buffer zone of nations (aligned to neither power block) that were uninvolved in their respective Masonic empires in a sort of "Masonic no-man's land"; a strip separating their two regions of power. This was so that subverters of neither party could easily get into the others territory and that missiles of either party would not be within range of their major capitols. It was mutually agreed that any encroachment into this territory would amount to a declaration of war. However, a short time later, NATO then realized too late that Russian Masons, since the Glasnost of the 1980's, had rejected Masonic Luciferianism in favour of traditionalism and Jesus so that they could stabilize the country for the better after the oppressive and ruinous Soviet days. Just as when NATO encountered Nazi Germany, they realized they had a crisis on their hands; an alternative and highly workable ideology that could threaten their plan for a one-world satanic government.

Back in Soviet days, Vladimir Putin was a very highly placed KGB official. As any student of the writings of KGB defector Yuri Bezmenov knows, the overwhelming majority of the KGB's operations were in conducting so-called "active measures"; the deliberate sabotage of other countries' stability by entirely LEGAL means, such as getting people and groups in the target country to hate and resent each other, stimulating egotism and selfishness in people so they will become more agitated and willing to use disruptive force, and encouraging beliefs that run contrary to the mainstream culture in the target country. For example when the Beatles were used to subvert Anglican England, they encouraged belief in Hinduism in the populace, paving the way to wholesale apostacy. Making books and media that encourages witchcraft and Satanism is another way to engender a counterculture because these belief systems accentuate and cultivate egotism and immorality in their adherents. Making films that demonstrate how to commit crimes or how to be manipulative, licentious, or otherwise immoral is another way to degrade culture. These films invariably show the villain being overcome by the protagonist, but it is the demonstration that lets people know how it is possible to behave if we relinquish morality. (This is the idea behind the Disney Villains thing; to demonstrate to children how to be malevolent and selfish.) Stimulating interest in extremist activities of any kind is another way to burden culture from the fallout that results. Elevating homosexuals or feminists to continual public attention is another way to inflame outrage and resentment whilst encouraging the growth of culture running contrary to the norm. The KGB spent tremendous amounts of money to create media along these lines to destabilise target countries. The goal was to provoke conflict until the result was total chaos and violence erupted in the streets over one issue or another. When this was accomplished the Soviets would mobilize the tanks and occupy the region, ostensibly to "normalize" things and "rescue" the population from the very problem the Soviets created through KGB subversion. In this manner, the Soviet system was intended to spread all over Eurasia. (This is all covered and explained in Yuri Bezmenov's book Love Letter to America, and expanded upon in my book Discerning Masonic Subversion if you need to know more about the topic.) With this in mind, it is important to know that Masonic countries (Like NATO countries) do this kind of thing to their OWN populations to encourage acceptance of the Satanism that their Masonic leaders wish to make into a worldwide phenomenon; a Satanic one-world government. Now, after the disintegration of the Soviet system, Russia was left in a dire predicament; how to create a workable new government that could reinvigorate their economy at the same time. Vladimir Putin emerged as the man with the most power and influence at the time and it fell to him to hit the ground running, as it were, with a sure-fire formula to pull the country together and make a new and thriving Russian society that could shake off old burdens and quickly rise from the ashes of the old regime's mistakes. What was needed was a direct return to traditionalism and wholesomeness; elements which were amputated from society by the extremism of the old Communist revolutionary mentality and to which everyone longed to return so that life would once again be fulfilling and beneficial to everyone. Although NATO opened Masonic lodges in Moscow, the doctrines of these lodges were altered by Putin in order to put society back on the path to goodness instead of back on the path to ruin. The Luciferian elements of Freemasonry were junked, and there was nothing but contempt for the revolutionary elements, so these were chunked in the bin as well. What remained was access to the globalist marketplace by appearing to cooperate with NATO Freemasonry, even though they had no idea their doctrines had been altered until much later. When NATO finally discovered what the new Russia had done (created a system vastly superior to their own) it was already too late to stop it. Russia indeed became a tremendously successful economic presence and their foreign policy was vastly more popular with unaligned countries because NATO, by comparison, had coercive and confrontational methods with which to force other countries to yield to their agendas, whereas the new Russian system's policy was always to accept and respect the sovereign independence of unaligned countries. In their view, they already had plenty of land to manage and a great abundance of resources. There was no need to expand. Russia's respect for other unaligned countries soon earned them the admiration of many, many countries that had always been persecuted by NATO's harassing methods, such as Iran, Cuba, Venezuela, North Korea, China, and many others. This made the countries extremely eager to work constructively with Russia on any number of projects and programs of mutual benefit to both peoples as well as fostering extensive ties in trading and business.

NATO did not care for this turn of events at all and was shocked that they had been deceived and that their patented Satanic system had been so easily retooled into a force for good. The usual NATO response would have been to begin the provocation of "colour wars"; the instigation of discontent among minority groups of all types inside Russia, in an attempt to gain a foothold of power inside the country to press home still further coercive manipulation.

But since Vladimir Putin knew very well about Luciferianism in European Freemasonry, as well as all about the various stratagems of subversion from his years managing the KGB, Putin's internal security policies had been tailored specifically to safeguard against such subtle external threats with the creation of new laws limiting foreign activities in the Russian media as well as any possible entrance into Russian culture via other avenues. NATO would not be able to subvert Russia by any conceivable means. This meant NATO would have to confront Russia militarily in order to force them back onto the path of Masonic Satanism. Although there had been a longstanding agreement between both power blocks to respect the unaligned "Masonic no-man's land" between their respective regions of influence, NATO then violated the agreement between the power blocks by instigating a regime change in the Ukraine so that they could move missiles into that territory that could reach Moscow. The Kremlin informed NATO that a war would result but NATO persisted and thus we have the Ukraine War, which is why NATO news media always tells a different story about how this war originated, and why they persistently refer to the war as "Russia's War in the Ukraine" as if the Russians are the ones who invaded. It is really NATO's encroachment against Russia that triggered the violence. NATO is continually warned by Russia that if they use any deep-penetrating cruise-missiles against Moscow or make any move that will directly threaten the survival of the Russian state, the instant response will be that Russia will launch a full-scale nuclear attack against all NATO countries in several directions at once. NATO initially decided not to push it and to restrict activities to a conventional war. NATO are managed by Freemason rakes who have been arbitrarily placed into positions of power which they are not qualified for. If these guys knew anything about war, they would know that warfare boils down to resources, which Russia has a superior supply of compared to NATO and that the usual result in war is that the side with the greatest resources invariably wins. Another example of how unqualified and inept NATO leaders are is their persistence in perpetuating the slow-burning of all their states' finances in an effort not to lose the war. As anyone who has played chess for any amount of time has quickly learned, you cannot win a war if your policy is simply trying not to lose. You have to develop a stratagem to win. Never at any point in the Ukraine war has NATO ever given the slightest indication that they were attempting to carry out such a stratagem to secure victory. Their tacticians' mentality seems to be "hold the line" and little else. They are bankrupting the entire EU economy by essentially shovelling money into the fire to zero advantage. Virtually all EU citizens are dissatisfied with EU policies and this has only intensified since the Ukraine War began. Perhaps the best thing the EU could do for the world would be to surrender and invite Russia to take over their governments, but I don't think Putin would even be interested in the responsibility. Russia has repeatedly stated that they don't even want the Ukraine, they are just fighting for it to be restored to neutral status.

Why doesn't NATO simply admit defeat? Remember, these NATO people are Satanist Freemasons; they are the ultimate egotists, and everyone knows that an egotist will go to his death rather than admit defeat or acknowledge that he was wrong in front of others. If the Satanic kingdom is ever to be built, they know that this is their last chance; they would sooner the whole of Eurasia perished together in a nuclear apocalypse NATO suicide than admit they had failed utterly. Remember, these people have spilled more blood and caused more wars than any other force in history. The only hope they have in avoiding hell's damnation is if they can somehow bring about Lucifer's vision. Nevertheless, it is a false hope, and it is the countless unfortunate citizens who live under their thumb who will once again suffer because of their elitism and arrogance. When the mind turns perverse, self-destruction invariably follows.

Revelation 20

8 And shall go out to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth, Gog, and Magog, to gather them together to battle: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.

9 And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them.

If we pick up from Gog and Magog in Revelation 20:8-9, we see that they become involved in the final battle for Jerusalem.

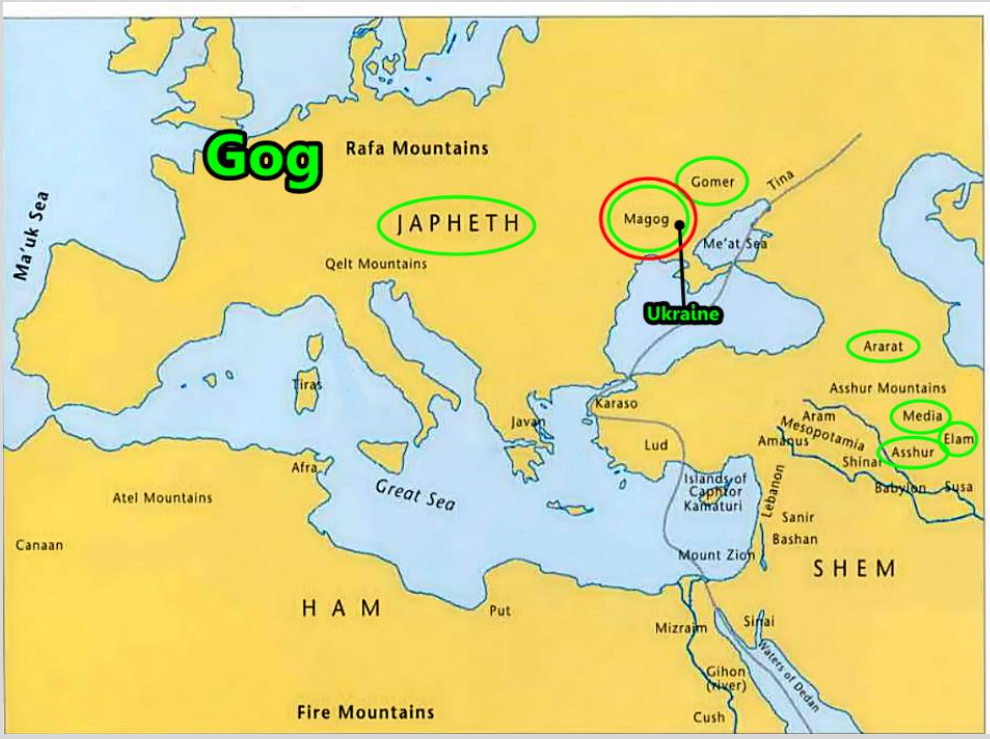
If we look at Habakkuk 1:5 and Isaiah 21, we learn that the Iranians will attack Israel, which brings Gog and Magog into the final battle that begins over the Holy Land. In 2026, this is very shortly to unfold for us…]



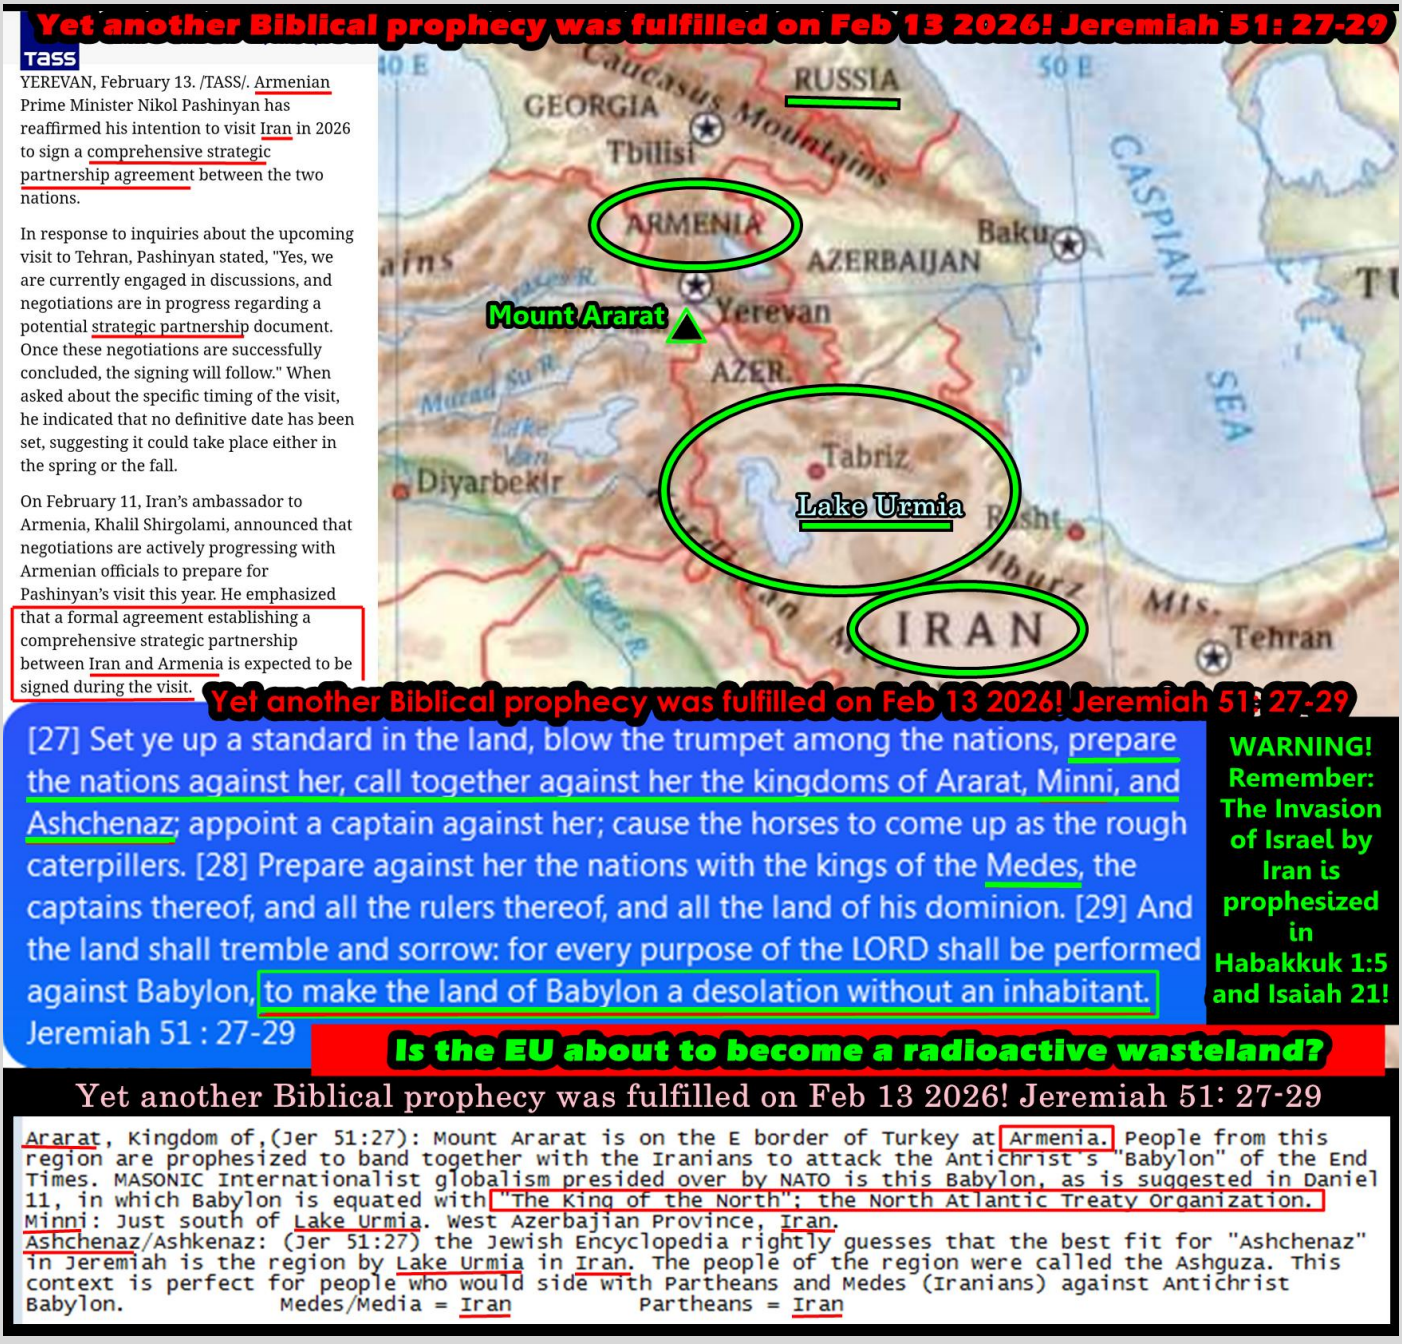
The Biblical Table of Nations in the Hellenistic Period

Jubilees 8–9
The book of Jubilees from the 2nd century B.C. presents a revised form of the table of nations in Genesis 10, interpreting it in the light of the new geographical knowledge of the Hellenistic period. It tells how the world was allotted to the three sons of Noah. Shem received the best part, the central part of the earth bounded by a line extending northward to the Tina (Don) River through Karaso (Hellespont) and the Caspian and Me'at (Azov) seas, and southward from Karaso through Lud to the waters of Dedan (Red Sea). All the lands north and west of this line belonged to Japheth, and the lands south and west were the heritage of Ham.

Is this lake particularly significant somehow?

Yes it is…

FLASH! As I write this, another prophecy is unfolding… We see the inevitable outcome, the doom of NATO, forming before our very eyes as the world is made to yield to the Word of God…



Regarding the above, do you think the Islamic coalition of the peoples around Lake Urmia might conclude that Europe, despite their incessant provocations against Iran, is actually insufficiently guarded against invasion and that after they take Israel they will then move on to invade Europe by land forces (starting an extremely long, extremely massive, and totally devastating conventional war)? Or do you think once the Islamic coalition invades Israel, NATO, drunk with power and certain that the whole world believes the use of nuclear weapons utterly unthinkable, will make some fatal mistake; perhaps firing a devastating rocket too deeply into Moscow, possibly with the intent to hit a particular munitions plant, and will cross Russia's final "red line" about existential threats to the Russian government, invoking the unimaginably overwhelming single sudden full scale nuclear death stroke Russia has been continually cautioning NATO about?

About the prophesized invasion of Israel,

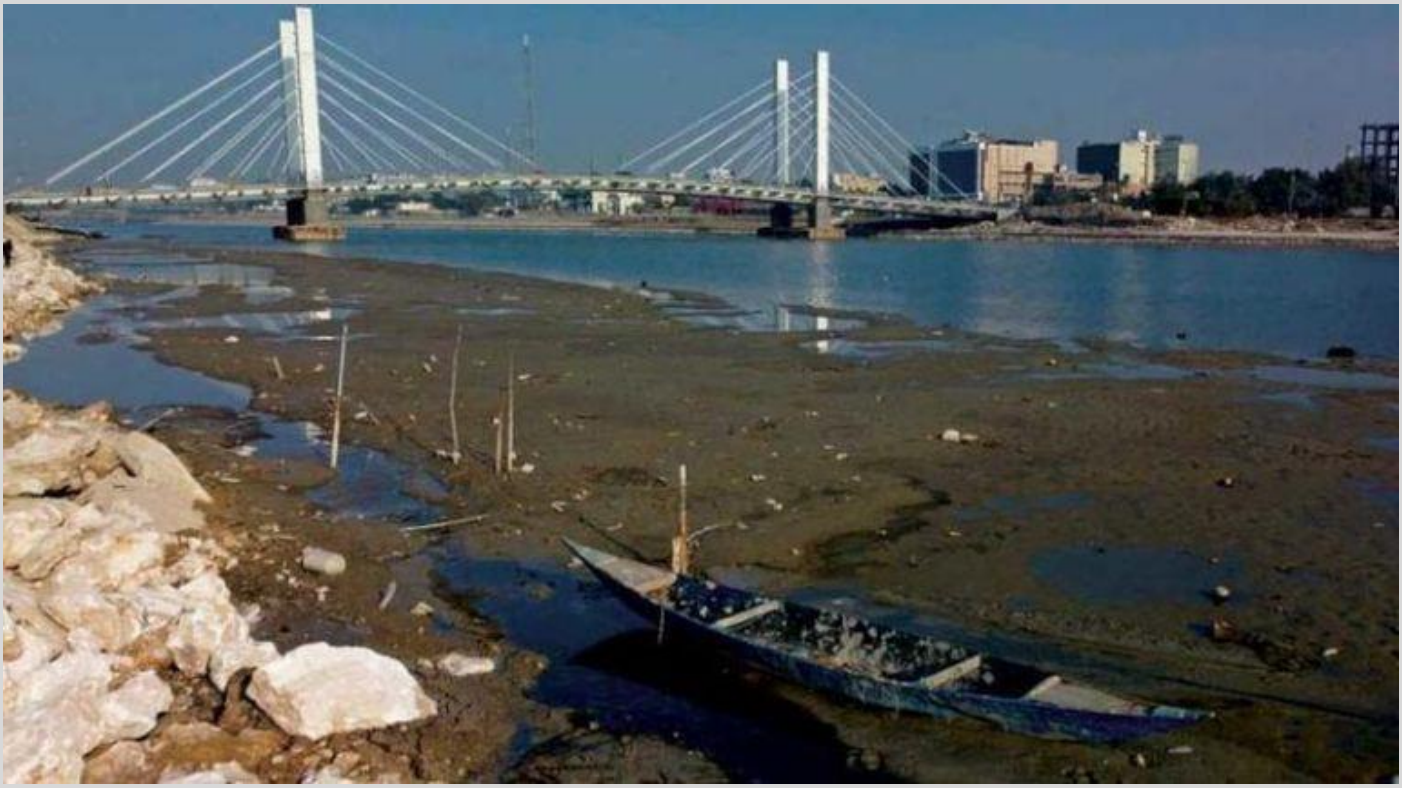
Habakkuk 1:5 prophesizes a huge Chaldean (Iranian) military formation moving to the west from a region where Iran, Kuwait, and Saudi Arabia meet; in other words, straight to Israel. And according to the prophecy,

THIS IS TO HAPPEN JUST AS BABYLON IS FALLING.

And very interestingly, there is a city called Abadan right in that vicinity. Is this the "Abaddon" mentioned in Revelation that is the king that reigns over the locusts that are like armoured horses prepared for battle, which make a sound like many chariots charging into battle and have "stings in their tails"?

Whatever those are supposed to be, we will very shortly find out.

Revelation also says that the Euphrates river will be dried up “That the way of the Kings of the East might be prepared”… Does this refer to the deletion of the primary physical barrier which has always discouraged Iran from staging a land invasion of massed ranks of military vehicles in the past? Perhaps because of the barrier of this river, Iran has acquired hundreds of amphibious BTRs (pictured above) from their closest ally Russia. Below is the present state of the Euphrates, which is now drying up because a highly controversial dam was recently constructed in Turkey, drastically reducing its flow. Do you think a battalion of BTRs could ford it? ↓



Is the city of Abadan perhaps to be the place where the most vehicles might cross at one time whilst encountering the least resistance from the governments of the territories between there and Israel? Remember, Iraq, nextdoor, is presently under the boot of NATO puppet-leadership. Diverting to the south, through Abadan, might be the best way of avoiding their NATO-loyal forces. Even so, they would have little to worry about; once the Iraqi people realise the Iranians are on their way to confront the source of all the Islamic peoples' woes, they will soon follow suit and pitch in.

The Book of Enoch also talks about the desolation of Israel and how the armies of the nations will converge on Israel at the end times where the final battle of the militaries of the world will take place. If Iran invaded Israel by surprise, that would assuredly bring countless nations into the battle...

Speaking of Revelation, The word "Armageddon" [Rev 16:16], being a Grecianized portmanteau place name for the "Arra-Meggido" region, refers to a spot between Ar'ara and Megiddo, Israel. Revelation says the armies of the whole world will be gathered together there "for the battle of that great day of God Almighty".

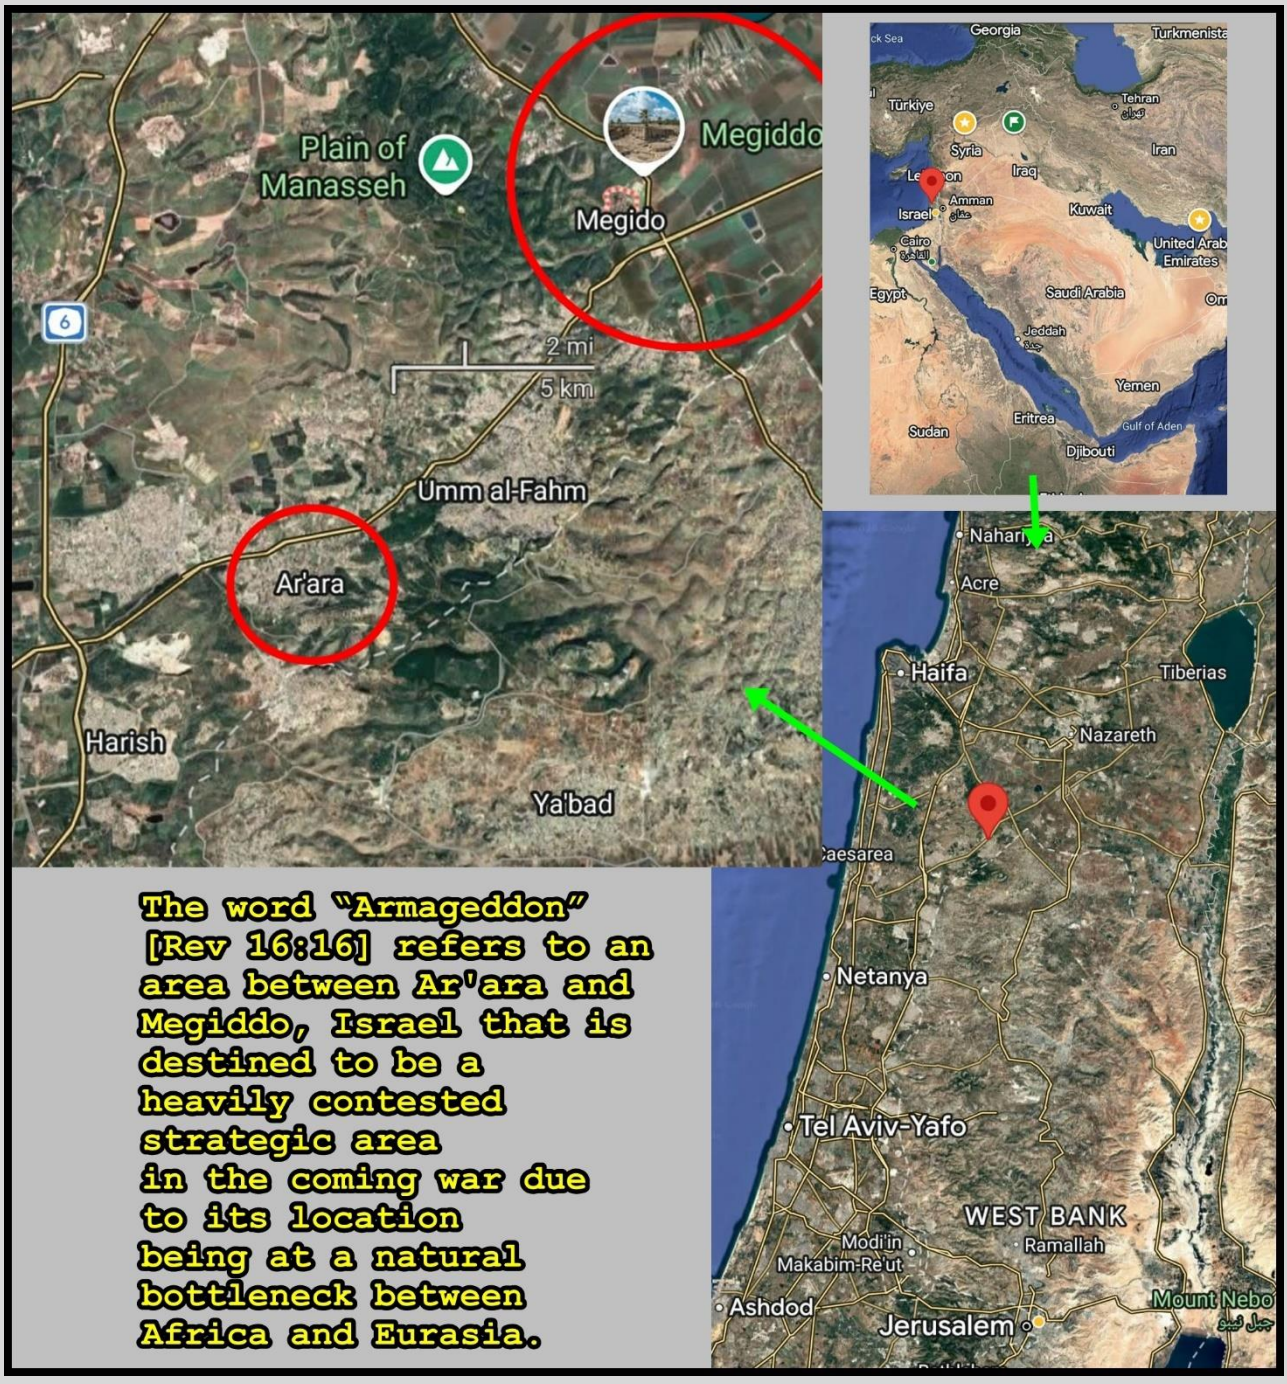
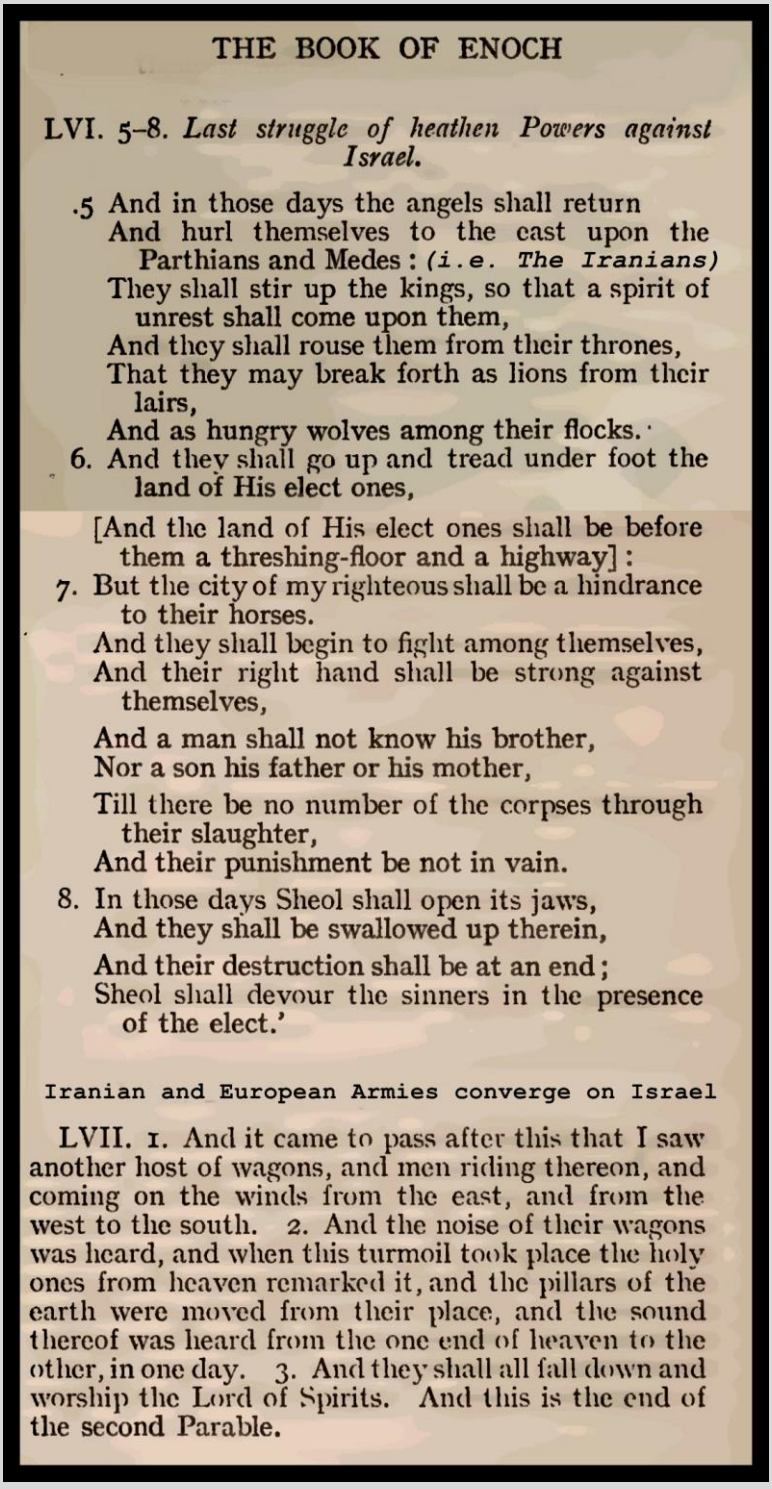
Although there was a battle fought in that very place during WWI, in fact many, many battles have taken place there. This is because strategically, this spot is a pinch-point with a topographically dominating view on an ancient highway that joins Africa to Asia, and hence innumerable battles have been waged here throughout history. Undoubtedly, if Iran were to invade Israel, this place would again become a battlefield.



The horrific desolations of Gaza, 2025; but a prelude…?

Like Winston Churchill before him, Benjie Netanyahu also owns munitions manufacturing companies and directly profits off the use of incendiaries, rockets, and shells as his country's military uses them up. A conflict of interest…?



THE BOOK OF ENOCH

LVI. 5–8. Last struggle of heathen Powers against Israel.

.5 And in those days the angels shall return
And hurl themselves to the east upon the Parthians and Medes: (i.e. The Iranians)
They shall stir up the kings, so that a spirit of unrest shall come upon them,
And they shall rouse them from their thrones,
That they may break forth as lions from their lairs,
And as hungry wolves among their flocks.
6. And they shall go up and tread under foot the land of His elect ones,
[And the land of His elect ones shall be before them a threshing-floor and a highway]:
7. But the city of my righteous shall be a hindrance to their horses.
And they shall begin to fight among themselves,
And their right hand shall be strong against themselves,
And a man shall not know his brother,
Nor a son his father or his mother,
Till there be no number of the corpses through their slaughter,
And their punishment be not in vain.
8. In those days Sheol shall open its jaws,
And they shall be swallowed up therein,
And their destruction shall be at an end;
Sheol shall devour the sinners in the presence of the elect.'

Iranian and European Armies converge on Israel

LVII. 1. And it came to pass after this that I saw another host of wagons, and men riding thereon, and coming on the winds from the east, and from the west to the south. 2. And the noise of their wagons was heard, and when this turmoil took place the holy ones from heaven remarked it, and the pillars of the earth were moved from their place, and the sound thereof was heard from the one end of heaven to the other, in one day. 3. And they shall all fall down and worship the Lord of Spirits. And this is the end of the second Parable.

Enoch said "The city of my righteous will become a highway and a threshing floor" of blood. The implication from Scripture is that much of the bloody action, when Israel becomes a killing floor in the last days of the End Times, will take place in this area. The Book of Enoch gives lots of information about this battle to-be. (or perhaps, that was, depending on when you're reading this…)

Apart from the Book of Enoch, there are many other prophecies that describe this invasion of Israel committed by the children of Kedar / Assyrians / Chaldeans / Persians / Medians / Elamites / Iranians (all the same thing) which are found in absolutely all of the apocalyptic apocrypha, including the comparatively recently discovered Qumran War Scroll, and also especially in the Bible of course; particularly interesting in this regard is Isaiah 21, which also declares that as soon as this invasion is first observed by the sentinels of Israel, Babylon is heard to have just fallen. Is this the answer to our query from before about how exactly the end is to happen? Does Europe invoke its own nuclear obliteration at the same moment of the Iranian invasion? A moment later, the sentinel of Mount Seir (a spot in Jordan through which invaders from the southeast would likely have to pass in order to close in on Jerusalem) calls to the watchman saying, "The morning cometh, and also the night!" Might this be the sun going black to signal the apocalypse just as Jesus warned us to watch for?

A surprise attack by a coalition of Islamic peoples of the region against Israel might meet with tremendous initial success if it were sizable enough. Trump is presently talking about a multi-national military force to be deployed to Israel to secure the region of Gaza, which is extremely close to Mount Seir. If an Islamic/Iranian-Armenian/Saudi coalition achieved a blitzkrieg-like victory against Jerusalem and bloodied the nose of these multi-national so-called "peacekeepers" along the way, you can bet that NATO and America would rush more troops to the region, post haste. Then all the prophesies about the sinners of the End Times killing each other in a final battle over Jerusalem would be realized. At this point, Isaiah 21 then laments that the glory of the sons of Kedar will fail, and even the residue of their mighty archers will be diminished within the space of one year from this day; presumably as the final battle consumes the blood of all the world's warriors.

One of the prophesies says the invaders will "Sin against Jacob and scatter his bones like dung upon the ground". Perhaps the invaders will say, "Let's give the Jews no more reason to love Israel, where their ancestors are buried, so they will NEVER consider coming back. Since we're here, lets desecrate the Cave of the Patriarchs in Jerusalem so they can't say their ancestors are buried here any longer!" Then, once this is done, perhaps they will blow up the region's other holy sites…

Then shall his mind change, and he shall pass over, and offend, imputing this his power unto his god.
Habakkuk 1 : 11

I think that's what the reference about offending means in the above quote, and then I think the Iranians will say to themselves, "This proves Allah is on our side!" and they will be filled with a total and exhilarating resolve after their initial triumph to follow their assault through to the very end, not realizing that the LORD is just using them to carry out his judgement against Babylon and their Masonic strongholds that are in Israel, "between the seas in the glorious Holy Mountain" (see below).

Remember how Babylon falls in Revelation? That Babylon is, as you know, a SYMBOLIC Babylon. Ancient Babylon was a cosmopolitan place of international peoples and commerce. Masonic globalism and their empire is the ultra-decadent Babylon of ancient times scaled up to encompass the whole earth. Remember the dream of Nebuchadnezzar (who was, very significantly, the King of ancient Babylon) in Daniel 2? He dreamed of the future empires of the world, and the last empire was more viciously evil by far and larger than all of them. In his dream, that empire was like "a stone cut without hands" (as Masonic initiates are considered to be) that was like a mountain that got bigger and bigger and crushed everything in its path until the Messiah came down and took it over. The cut stone is a direct reference to Freemasonry. And Jesus is frequently called the stone the builders rejected; They couldn't shape or tempt Him.

Forgive my going off on a bit of a tangent, but that knowledge needed to be communicated.

Let's return to interpreting Daniel 11…]

11:41 He [NATO] shall enter also into the glorious land [The Holy Land], and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall escape out of his [NATO] hand: even Edom, and Moab [Jordan], and the chief [Bashar al-Assad] of the children of Ammon [Syria].

[Note that this last prophesy has already been fulfilled! Bashar al-Assad, ex-president of Syria, escaped the NATO takeover of his country, evaded NATO persecution, and was granted asylum in Russia!

Our God's prophesies are always fulfilled.

THE NAME OF THE LORD IS EXALTED!]

Bashar Al-Assad - a man living today who was mentioned in the Bible!

11:42 He [The King of the North/NATO] shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries: and the land of Egypt shall not escape.

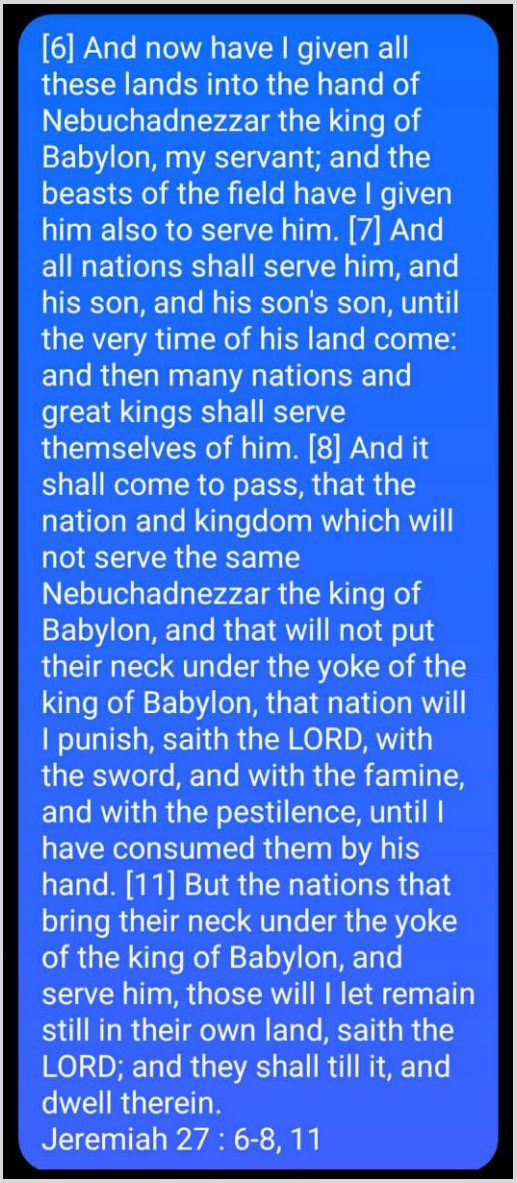
[As stated earlier, Egypt has been significantly affected by NATO tyranny, most recently during the 2011 "Arab Spring" in which NATO orchestrated a huge political uprising through the use of online recruiting of youth to employ as rioters and activists by the CIA.



Paid activism is NATO's favourite game. Inciting "colour wars" with paid activists is their notorious modus operandi; they instigate some visible political rioting that the media can report and film, and then claim that such-and-such people are being oppressed by a tyrannical government, and then expect the western public to accept that they, NATO, have a moral obligation to swoop in and establish a (Masonically controlled) democratic government. Innumerable countries have lost their sovereignty to this same old insidious stratagem when they otherwise resisted being incorporated into the invisible Masonic one-world government. On the outside, it looks like all the countries are still independent, but on the inside they are increasingly run by but a few Luciferian elites.

Right now as I write this, Iran is being intimidated with an American naval fleet in the Persian Gulf as Trump attempts to coerce them into joining the Masonic one-world government. Ostensibly, Trump claims this is about "enriched uranium", and Israel claims it is about missiles, but even if Iran were to hand over all their missiles and uranium, they would find themselves besieged in a fresh scenario a few months later, and then another, and another, because the true agenda is the incorporation of Iran into the Masonic NATO empire. This is the true reason behind the continual harassment of North Korea, Iran, and all the rest of the last few sovereign independent nations left in the world. They are to be continually harassed until they put their necks under the yoke of the reincarnation of Nebuchadnezzar, as is stated in Jeremiah 27:8}

"And it shall come to pass, that the nation and kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I punish, saith the LORD, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have consumed them by his hand."

This ties in to the world-wide Babylon of Revelation. The global Babylon is ancient international Babylon writ large; a place of great merchandise, blasphemy, and fornication ruled over by the Whore of Babylon "with whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication"… What could be a more fitting symbol for globalist-internationalist Luciferian Freemasonry…?

Please see my book The Sevenfold Doctrine: The Edgar Cayce Interpretation of the Revelation for the true meaning of that most mysterious scripture of all.

Also, many Bible prophecies and even many post-Biblical era Jewish apocalyptic prophecies say that ancient Rome will somehow symbolically come again before the Messiah returns.

Many have taken this to mean that a leader that is unusually egotistical and power mad like a Roman emperor, and who actually does have tremendous control and influence, will come along and make sweeping changes to the world to suit himself, and like a Roman emperor shall be caught up in continual rumours about secret rapes and scandalous behaviour. This will also be against the backdrop of ancient Babylon having come again. We've certainly already got Babylon, which is undoubtedly masonic internationalist-globalism.

Does this Roman emperor thing happen to remind you of anybody…?]

11:43 But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt [The British liberally plundered Egypt of its treasures for the British Museum.]: and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps.

11:44 But tidings out of the east [Ukraine War, Iran] and out of the north [Greenland] shall trouble him [NATO]: therefore he shall go forth with great fury to destroy, and utterly to make away many.

11:45 And he shall plant the tabernacles of his palace [The Grand Lodge of the State of Israel and the Masonic Hall Jerusalem] between the seas [The Mediterranean Sea and the Dead Sea.] in the glorious holy mountain [The Mount of Olives]; yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

[Europe is being economically bled white by the stupid Ukraine War as their strategists make tactical decisions that are so poor they might be comical if it were not for the fact that hundreds of people are paying the ultimate price for their incompetence every day. Already drained of resources, the EU kicked off 2026 realizing that they could no longer rely on America for defence help and now they have to scramble to figure out how to buy some military defences of their own with money they already gave away to perpetuate the Ukraine fiasco. They have stupidly refused to buy petroleum from Russia, cajoling all their friends into doing the same, not being bright enough to realise that the country with the greatest resources is always the one that wins a war. At the same time, they have ensured that Russia will enter WWIII with absolutely enormous reserves of oil with which to keep their war machines going.

This tomfoolery is because NATO officials are arbitrarily placed into power based not on qualifications but on the ideology of empty "gender levelling" and on the mere holding of Masonic degrees. Their doctrines are so cripple-brained that they have even made the mistake of putting women in charge of the tactical battlefield decision-making for their insane war against Russia, proving once again that if you dig a pit to sabotage others you will invariably fall into it yourself. As prophesized in Daniel 11:45, the King of the North will indeed come to his end very soon and there is no one anywhere who would help these fools out of their self-created rightful comeuppance. NATO, the citizens of the world find you utterly contemptable. I have never met anyone alive in all of creation who thought letting people decide for themselves what gender they are was a worthwhile subject to even contemplate, let alone worth bombarding the public with continual reminders about the issue for over a decade. You have demonstrated your incompetence in every conceivable category and continually shown yourself undeserving to lead any society of any shape or form. Your every policy is a contemptable aberration; what the hell is wrong with you?

As I intimated before, NATO, drunken with arrogance, is likely to make the mistake of firing a heavy missile towards Moscow which will instantly invoke the Russians' promised retaliation; a full-scale nuclear barrage in numerous directions at once against every NATO missile silo, government HQ, and military base. Maybe every Masonic Lodge, too. This will be the end of NATO and will instantly lead to a time of troubles like we have never known…]

12:1 And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time:

[Obviously this means the situation will be worse than ever before in history. The nuclear annihilation of Europe and concerns about fallout spreading over the world via the jet stream making life extremely worrisome for those that remain might easily suffice to make this so. An utterly massive infantry and AFV battle over the Holy Land is prophesized to be getting underway right about the same time and will begin to slowly consume all the remaining soldiers of the world… The Sun will go dark…

Edgar Cayce, the Apocalypse of Thomas, and Jesus too suggested that the sea level would rise greatly right at this terrible moment in human history. Cayce additionally said that a pole shift was going to occur as well, which would certainly ensure total chaos. Then there are also the prophesies of a gigantic earthquake that will occur centred around the holy land and possibly Turkey.]

…and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.

[“And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.”

- Revelation 13 : 8

“The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.”

- Revelation 17 : 8

It should be pointed out that this does not mean that repentant sinners who were not included in the book were never destined for eternal life or have no hope of redemption. Edgar Cayce clarified this point when it came up in his analysis of the Revelation and said that although the Book of the Lamb has existed from the foundation of the world, names in the book can be written in, and then later effaced, only to be written back in again based on the acts people commit over their successive incarnations.]

12:2 And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt.

[The Edgar Cayce Readings implied that when certain people died their existences were occasionally placed on hold, and they “slept” in the Mind of God, from whence He could call them back before Him at any time. This is because all things everywhere, though they may look physical, are actually part of an electro-spiritual spectrum of energy pervading the entire universe. There is nothing that is not part of that energy, and that energy is God. It is in God that we think, move, about, and have our beings. Therefore people’s souls can be put on hold, sent into other dimensions (such as the field of flowers dying people see), reborn as with reincarnation, or cleansed of a bad personality and reshaped utterly into new personalities to give them another chance. Promising souls generally have uninterrupted constant existences though, and reincarnate again and again to accrue ennoblement. Some lives are helpful to an entity's ennoblement and some prove to be detrimental through falling into sin. Isaiah suggests that some of the more nonentity sinners from the End Times Babylon, lives that were selfishly wasted, will simply be made to sleep forever. The egregiously malignant however will be awakened for suitable punishment. This will happen during the Second Resurrection when souls are judged. The First Resurrection is for the righteous Elect who are already sealed in their foreheads by the Lamb of Christ. They go to the New Jerusalem. Others will be awakened later or reincarnated when the new Root Race is initiated in the Holy City. New children will be born there! Life will be a joy of supportive friends and continual relief, rejoicing, and happiness! Finally we can live in a perfect society of the kind our hearts have always known should be, with people who are always happy to aid each other and offer companionship! AND THE LORD WILL BE THERE! Knowledge and kindness and real love will pervade everything and no one will ever be lonesome or in pain again!

Here's something interesting for the elect to think about! Have you ever wanted a nice hobby garden with a little fountain maybe? Or perhaps your own dedicated library or a music room for when your friends come over and you want to sing and play instruments together by the piano? If New Jerusalem is a cube 1,500 miles across and 144,000 people are to be living there (which is all stated in the Revelation), assuming the ceilings are 18.33 feet high, that means each Elect citizen of New Jerusalem, will have three 1,500 square mile beautiful crystalline floors to themselves, to explore and do with as they please!

In my father's house are indeed many mansions!

…And we will never have to hear the word "Freemason" ever again!!!

12:3 And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever.

[I always think of Edgar Cayce and Daniel when I read this line. These two prophets helped turn me into a Christian and recovered me out of a state of utter nihilism. I am only one soul they and those like them have helped. Edgar Cayce is really helping a whole lot of people realize some much needed Truth in this world of deceptions and lies the Freemasons have brought about. I'd like to say something about the study of Edgar Cayce though; there are a lot of malignly-written texts purporting to be "the Edgar Cayce Readings" or "written by Edgar Cayce" which were actually written by Freemasons to intentionally water down the continual proof of God Cayce's output provided us. These books seek to fool the reader into thinking they have got the actual facts of the Cayce Readings in their hands, when they are nothing but lies and distortions made to degrade belief in the DIVINITY of Jesus Christ or make Edgar Cayce look like some kind of egoist charlatan or even just a flake. If you find books like this you're being lied to. Especially if an Edgar Cayce book claims that Jesus was not God, but something else, you are being lied to.

Tell you what; a 100% reliable, unaltered, and SEARCHABLE version of the Edgar Cayce Readings is available here. I endorse this one especially because I uploaded it myself! Please give it a lot of study; you will come away with TREMENDOUS wisdom! To me, it is equally as valuable as the KJV Bible itself. Please see for yourself how helpful it can be for a Christian to have access to a searchable database of PURE TRUTH!

12:4 But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

[Bible study is of tremendous benefit, as long as one does NOT use a Study Bible, since many of these have been written by Freemasons to damage your faith or set you upon a worthless path. One of my friends showed me a so-called Study Bible he had acquired that actually dismissed and condemned the entirety of the chapter under scrutiny as "bad theology"…! What kind of madman considers himself an authority on the Bible and then sits down to pen a study program like that?! Of course, no one; this is just yet another example of Freemasons trying to enact the doctrine of Balaam in order to sabotage Christians and scatter the power of the Holy People.

What is a good study program?

First, familiarize oneself with the message of Christ. That's obviously first and foremost for new people.

Understand that what Christ was teaching was that devoting oneself to supporting others and cultivating total egolessness leads to a heart filled with peace. It will grant you membership in the Kingdom of New Jerusalem if you're good at it.

Once you're up to speed the real studying begins.

It's really helpful to study the history of the Hebrews by timelines and maps. A Bible Atlas is really helpful. Finding visual timelines with key events marked out hands you a list of interesting study topics to delve into.

To really get down to the excellent proofs of God and the really spookily chilling fulfilled prophesies and End Times predictions, turn to the prophets, and don't neglect the minor ones. I find that the key to comprehending most scriptures is deciphering the place-names in a prophecy to determine the modern name of the country being referred to. Looking up ancient place-names in the Jewish Encyclopaedia is helpful (I use the 1912 ed. on the theory that the newer the book the more Masonic subversion it is crammed with), as is querying Chat GPT (mistral engine) with prompts such as, "What is the modern place-name for the region once inhabited by the ancient people known as the Kenites, the sons of Jethro?" or perhaps, "What is the modern place-name for the ancient region known as Meshech?" But you should always seek to confirm any leads it gives you since AI is frequently wrong. It can be an especially helpful research tool with regard to sifting facts out of history and geography though, and can save you a lot of research footwork if you're careful to be precise about how you phrase your questions.

Occasionally, I have had a happy result when these methods turned up nothing by simply going to google maps, zooming to the general Middle-East region, and typing in the ancient place-name. Many times, a slightly different modern spelling is suggested which research later reveals to be the correct place in question.

For your personal questions about how God feels about certain topics, the morality of this and that, or the answers to history's mysteries, look no further than the searchable Edgar Cayce Readings. Hidden there are the answers to innumerable questions about ancient times and loads of wisdom on topics you never knew existed. For example, “Entering into the Silence” is a discipline that God gave men to channel intellectual knowledge from Him (Cayce can teach you how to do this!), Demons and Archangels are REAL extradimensional entities, Kundalini energy is directly related to the Anointing mentioned in Isaiah 10:27 & the strange vision reported in Zechariah 4 as well as the flame that came upon the Apostles’ brows at the Pentecost, The origin and mind-blowing true purpose of the mysterious ancient Costa-Rican stone spheres is found in the Cayce Readings. The revelation that ancient Carthage once had a shockingly high level of technology back in Roman times, but that the Romans invaded and meticulously destroyed every piece of technology they found, is explained in the Readings. The truth about the Lusitania carrying poison gas shells that America secretly manufactured for England during WWI, the Lindbergh kidnapping, the changes that occurred on the earth 10,500 years ago, that evolution has never applied to man, that the fallen angels mentioned in Genesis 6 were real and indeed begat giants, that the Deluge was real, that Ramachandra of India was real and more akin to a Christian saint than a Hindu, that the modern myth of Buddha is but a corrupt remembrance of the Prophet Enoch, that Christ has incarnated to bring teachings to mankind many times, that there were ancient “Root Races” of proto-humans that were most unrelated to modern humans and that a new Root Race will appear in the Earth after the advent of the New Jerusalem, that these Root Races lived on the continents of Mu and Atlantis, and that their remains can be seen in the sculptures of Nuku Hiva, Rapa Nui, and the Dogu statues of Japan (especially those from Yamanashi prefecture), that the Myan Popol Vuh, the Book of Jubilees and Frank Waters’ The Book of the Hopi contain remembrances of these ancient Root Races, how the ancient Atlantean Sons of Baalilal (Belial) were the original anti-God

Freemasons, how the Christian equivalents of antediluvian times were practicing a Creator-worship religion in a group called the Children of the Law of One, the subtle hows and whys of the Divinity of Jesus Christ the Son of God and why the Crucifixion was necessary to rescue humanity after the Fall of Man embedded us in matter, the story of how the Freemasons once conspired to have Edgar Cayce and his family imprisoned, the revelation that the United Nations consulted Cayce about how best to tailor propaganda to create a new world order (and Cayce cautioned them that they were getting too friendly with anti-Christian forces!), how many dimensions the solar-system contains (eight!), how altering the vibrations can transition one between dimensions, where the dimension of God the Father's Throne truly resides, what the true purpose of mankind is, the facts about reincarnation, and just all sorts of totally fascinating life-improving wisdom can be found in the searchable Edgar Cayce Readings.

12:5 Then I Daniel looked, and, behold, there stood other two, the one on this side of the bank of the river, and the other on that side of the bank of the river.

12:6 And one said to the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders?

12:7 And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and swear by him that liveth for ever that it shall be for a time, times, and an half; and when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people [Christians - and hasn't the Masonic Media and Vatican II done just that?], all these things shall be finished.

12:8 And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?

12:9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end.

12:10 Many shall be purified, and made white, and tried; but the wicked shall do wickedly: and none of the wicked shall understand; but the wise shall understand.

12:11 And from the time that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and the abomination that maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days.

[These are the leading ways to interpret the mystery of the Abomination of Desolation, which even Jesus reminded us to watch for:

1) The dismantling or destruction of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, Jerusalem. This is suggested in the Book of Enoch and could conceivably happen in conjunction with #4, below.)
2) The abolition of the correct Mass and the establishment of the false Mass which was instituted in 1965 by Vatican II. (This would necessarily be in conjunction with other later events, of course…)
3) The desolation of Gaza (as was just performed by Netanyahu) and/or…
4) The physical desolation of many other areas of Israel in the elsewhere-prophesized Iranian invasion of Israel. (Mentioned in Habakkuk 1:5, Isaiah 21, and many other places in the Bible.)

Remember, Jesus then said, "If thou will not watch, I will come upon thee as a thief, and thou will not know what hour I shall come upon thee."

That is where he mentioned the parable of the fig tree; that parable means, when you see the signs the Bible has delineated for you to watch for, AND THEY ARE HAPPENING ALL AT ONCE, then it is time to be ready to hunker down for three and a half years, hole up in quiet safety somewhere, and wait for the Lord's indignation to pass.

Now, how do you remain watchful when the NATO media's news about foreign countries is so underreported or heavily censored and distorted to conceal what is going on in the world from you? And when NATO news is so deliberately written to continually provoke and antagonize Christians? Remember, it isn't just TV news, radio, and newspapers they control, their tentacles are deep in social media too in the form of fake individuals that are the mouthpieces for subverters pushing Masonic ideologies like ego-freedom propaganda, gay rights, acceptance of miscegenation, transsexualism, and feminism. Where can you get news that is a good overview of world events that simultaneously respects and defends Christianity and vocally prefers traditional lifestyles? …and they aren't secretly trying to destroy you? Believe it or not the most sober news the present author has found is TASS, the Russian news agency. They appear to have a much greater respect for the basic principle of ethical reporting of the actual truth than NATO countries do. Yes, there is Russian propaganda, but that is easy to spot and pass over. It is much easier to discern what you should and should not believe reading TASS than it is looking at Western news outlets, which continually try to manipulate you even using reverse psychology in some instances and fabricating stories to provoke outrage. TASS seems to simply report what they see; they aren't trying to stoke up your emotions. It is flat, sober, and straightforward. It's relatively inoffensive compared to the continually offensive Western sources. I should point out though that the Russians have their own brand of Freemasonry, and their own kind of humanist propaganda. However, their brand of Freemasonry arose after the Soviet Union fell and so they deleted all masonic advocation of Luciferianism, homosexuality, and Marxism from their dogma. The post-Soviet system had had enough of Marxism and what was wanted was stability, so they threw out everything tailored to overturn culture. Instead they embraced the Russian Orthodox Church and a kind of humanism that approves of Christians too instead of trying to secretly destroy them. As a consequence, you do see some propaganda, particularly in the realm of perpetuating falsehoods about the Nazi era, Hitler, and the Nuremberg Trials, I think mainly because "the Great Patriotic War" as they call it is so wrapped up in their national pride. Russian Freemasonry is mainly done for economic, globalist, and world trade networking reasons. By the time NATO noticed they had created their own branch, it was too late, and that is the true cause of the Ukraine War and the NATO Anti-Russian mania which has otherwise inexplicably gripped the west. The proof is in the way NATO systematically attempts to subjugate "dissident" sovereign countries that attempt to stay well out of the pro-Luciferian Masonic globalist system. (North Korea, Iran, Cuba, Columbia, and formerly Venezuela too, under Meduro.) [Please see my other books for lots more on this.] So give that a try and it will help you watch for the signs. I was particularly impressed that when TASS reported on the jailing of priests in the Ukraine and the NATO-motivated persecution of the Russian Orthodox Church in the Ukraine, the TASS correspondent actually said, "This is what Christians have always been warned about to expect in the latter days; the persecution of the church at the End Times by a satanic empire." Needless to say, this matched 100% the conclusions I had already formed by my own scriptural studies and media observations, and I was greatly reassured that I was following a fair and mainly reliable news source.]

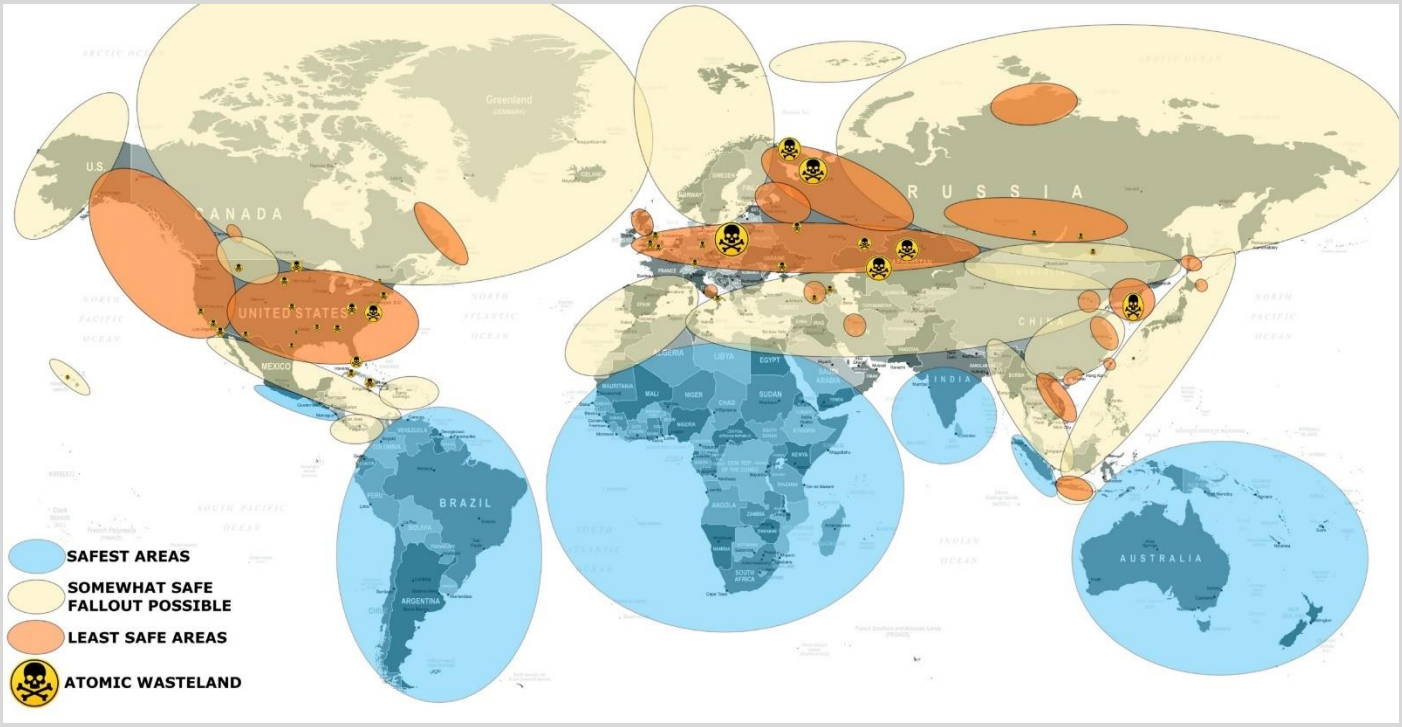
12:12 Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days.

Nuclear Fallout Map ↓



[This could well mean that the Elect won't be gathered until 3.65 years have passed. This will probably need to be done in hiding since there may still be a lot of madness going on in the wake of the obliteration of Europe (and possibly numerous other places). Try and get some storable food and find a spot with a good clean water source like a well or a spring that hasn't turned to blood or been contaminated by fallout. Every time you go to the store, pick up a couple of extra cans of canned goods and start saving them up. It's a cheap way to begin a stockpile. If each person in your group eats only one can of beans a day, that is still 1335 cans needed for each person, so if you see the abomination of desolation take place, get ye to the bulk foods grocery store and don't spare the credit card. Make multiple trips the same day if you have to because every second counts. You want to be ready and holed-up in your shelter before the anti-Christian masses catch on that there is a famine starting. Be discerning about those to whom you mention the existence of your stockpile, lest they show up later with a gun. Look into storable foods, survivalism, prepping, etc… Whatever you do keep yourself FAR from committing any violence of any kind. Those who spill human blood will be destroyed from off the earth. The only use a Christian has for a gun is in hunting game to eat when starving. The meek should not study combat as much as the art of defensive stealth; hiding and fleeing whist exploiting cover for protection. Also, there is an art to putting obstacles between yourself and any pursuers' line of sight. During the Soviet-Afghan War, whole groups of Mujahideen were able to hide in the open from low-flying helicopters simply by wearing blankets that were the same colour as the terrain and covering up whenever they heard a vehicle approaching. From even very close ranges, they were practically invisible provided they did not move. At night, this is counterintuitively less effective, because it is then that helicopter crews switch to thermal imaging optics.

Moving through dense urbanization that was constantly patrolled by armed helicopters (drones, these days) was accomplished by remaining inside the cover of buildings. They remained always on the ground floor to put as much building structure as possible over them to minimize any human body heat signature the helicopters might detect. Moving across the city was accomplished slowly but in relative safety; by knocking holes in the walls of neighbouring buildings with a sledgehammer.

Of course, if after a while you should meet someone who needs food or help, it is our Christian duty to help them. Go ahead and give them food; even if it is your last can, think of what you are investing in by your selflessness. The hopeful of Christ must also be ready to look for manifestations of MANNA. This substance is REAL, and is a gift from heaven to help you survive. It is important to know something about it, so I saved the following images so you could familiarize yourself with what it looks like and how it can be prepared, etc., Because it can save your life:

MANNA (מן).—Biblical Data: The miraculously supplied food on which the Israelites subsisted in the wilderness. Its name is said to have originated in the question מן הוא ("What is it?" Ex. xvi. 15, R. V.; comp. Rashi ad loc.), asked by the Israelites when they first saw it. According to George Ebers ("Durch Gosen zum Sinai," p. 236), the name comes from the Egyptian "mennu" (="food"). The manna is also designated "bread" (Ex. xvi. 4); it is called "the corn of heaven" and "the bread of the mighty" in Ps. lxxviii. 24–25, R. V., and, in a depreciative sense, "the light bread" in Num. xxi. 5. The manna descended in the night in the form of coriander-seed of the color of bdellium (Num. xi. 7), so that in the morning the ground looked as if it were covered with hoar frost. The grains were ground or pounded into flour, and then the flour was prepared and baked in the form of cakes, the taste of which was like that of "wafers made with honey" or "as the taste of fresh oil" (Ex. xvi. 31; Num. xi. 8).

The gathering of the manna was connected with several miracles: it was collected before sunrise, for, in spite of its hard substance, it melted in the sun. The quantity collected made exactly one omer for every person, whether one collected much or little. On Friday morning the portions were double, for the manna could not be found on Sabbath. The manna was eaten the day it was gathered; if it were left until the following morning it corrupted and bred worms, though the manna gathered on Friday and kept for the Sabbath remained fresh. It continued to descend during the forty years the Israelites were in the wilderness, but when they arrived at Gilgal, on the 14th of Nisan, and began to eat the grain grown there, the manna ceased to fall. In order to perpetuate the memory of this providence, Aaron was told to put an omer of manna in a vessel and lay it "before the testimony" (Ex. xvi. 17-35; Josh. v. 10-12). Num. xxi. 5 makes it appear that manna was the only food of the Israelites while they were in the wilderness, although references to provisions of fine flour, oil, and meat are met with elsewhere. It may be either that the manna constituted their main but not only food-supply during the whole forty years, or that it became their exclusive food after the provisions they took with them from Egypt were exhausted.

Israelites Gathering Manna in the Desert.
(From the Sarajevo Haggadah of the fourteenth century.)

Certain modern scholars attempt to identify the manna of Exodus with the exudation of the tamarisk-trees (named by Ehrenberg the "Tammarix mannifera") of the Sinaitic peninsula. The Arabs call it "mann al-sama" (="heavenly manna"), and collect it and sell it to pilgrims. It has been identified also with the exudations of other trees found in those regions. A more recent view identifies the Biblical manna with lichen and allied species of plants found in Arabia and other parts of western Asia. The reports of modern travelers, however, are contradictory in regard to "manna."

—In Rabbinical Literature: Manna was one of the ten things created on the first Friday of Creation, in the twilight (Abot v. 9; comp. Targ. pseudo-Jonathan to Ex. xvi. 4, 15). According to Zabdi b. Levi, the manna which fell near the camp of the Israelites in the wilderness covered an area two thousand cubits square; it remained on the ground until four hours after sunrise, when it melted. It fell to a depth of sixty cubits, or, according to Isi b. Akiba (Midr. Teh. to Ps. xxiii.), of fifty cubits, and the quantity which fell every day would have sufficed to nourish the people for two thousand years. The question why was it necessary that the manna should fall every day is answered by the Rabbis in different ways: the Israelites could not be encumbered with its burden; they needed warm food every day, and the manna was warm when it fell; they needed that their hearts should be turned to God for their daily bread. It was so conspicuous that all the kings of the East and West could see it from their palaces (Yoma 76a; Tan., Beshallaḥ, 21).

In order that the manna might remain clean, a north wind first swept the ground, and then rains washed it. Then, after the ground had been covered with a layer of dew, the manna fell upon it, and was itself then covered with dew (Mek., Beshallaḥ, Wayassa', 3; comp. Sifre, Num. 89). It so fell that the righteous had no trouble in gathering it, finding it at the doors of their tents; those of less firm belief had to go farther for it; the wicked had to go far from the camp to gather it (Yoma 75a). A very different statement, but of the same nature, is given in Tan., Beshallaḥ, 22: The diligent went out into the field to gather the manna; the less diligent went just outside their tents; but the indolent lay in their sleeping-places while the manna fell into their outstretched hands. Created only for the children of Israel, the heathen could not secure the smallest quantity of it, for when one stretched out his hand to pick it up, it slipped from his grasp (Sifre, Deut. 313; Midr. Abkir, in Yalḳ., Ex. 258); according to another opinion, it tasted bitter to the heathen (Tan., l.c.).

The melting of the manna formed streams which furnished drink to many deer and other animals, and when those animals were afterward killed by heathen, the latter recognized in the meat the taste of the manna (Tan., l.c.; comp. Targ. pseudo-Jonathan to Ex. xvi. 21). It was only in this way that the heathen could know the true taste of the manna, for the water itself was bitter to them (Tan., l.c.). With the manna precious stones fell every morning (Yoma l.c.). The manna was adapted to the taste of each individual; to the adult it tasted like the food of the adult, while to the sucking child it tasted like the milk of its mother's breasts. By wishing, one could taste in the manna anything desired, whether fowl or fruit; thus the statement that the people ground it, or pounded it, and then baked it (Num. xi. 8), is only figurative, for if one so wished it tasted like food made of flour ground or pounded, baked or cooked. According to a different interpretation, the wicked were compelled to grind it and prepare it until it was fit for food, while for the righteous it was ground by angels before it fell from heaven.

The manna exhaled a fragrant odor, and during the forty years the Israelites wandered in the wilderness it served the women as perfume. Being a heavenly food, the manna contained nutritious matter only, without any waste products, so that during the whole time the Israelites lived upon it the grossest office of the body remained unexercised. The Israelites, nevertheless, complained of it (comp. Num. xi. 6): "Shall a human being not discharge of what he eats? our bowels will surely be swollen" (Yoma l.c.; Sifre, Num. 87–89; Tan., l.c.).

Characteristics.

A miracle attended the collecting of the manna, in that the number of omers gathered by each family was found to correspond to the number of its members. This rendered the manna useful in solving most difficult problems. For instance, when two people came before Moses, one accusing the other of having stolen his slave and the other claiming to have bought the slave, Moses deferred his decision to the following morning, when the number of omers of manna in their respective houses showed to whom the slave belonged. In this way many otherwise inextricable complications could be unraveled (Yoma 75a).

The Rabbis disagreed as to the period of time for which the pot of manna was placed by Aaron "before the testimony." It was placed there only for the following generation; it was placed there for all future generations; it was to be kept there until the coming of the Messiah. It is one of the three things which will be restored by Elijah. Jeremiah, when remonstrating with the children of Israel for their neglect of the Torah, showed them the pot of manna: "See how God nourishes those that occupy themselves with the study of the Law." There is also a disagreement between the Rabbis with regard to the length of time after Moses' death in which the Israelites ate the manna—whether for forty days, seventy days, or for the fourteen years during which the land of Canaan was conquered and divided among the tribes. According to R. Joshua, the manna ceased to descend immediately after Moses' death, and the Israelites were compelled to eat what they had gathered previously (Mek., l.c.). The manna is reserved as the future food of the righteous, for which purpose it is ground in a mill situated in Shehakim, the third heaven (Hag. 12b; Tan., l.c.).

The likelihood of the actualized use of thermonuclear weapons in open warfare has never been higher than right now as I type this. Therefore, study fallout patterns that are likely to be generated from any primary, secondary, and tertiary nuclear targets that may happen to lie upwind from where your shelter is located. Remember the radioactive dust can get on you and cause radiation sickness, so wherever you live, it's good to have a Geiger counter and check yourself over and keep your shelter clean.

Depending on where you live, it would be a good idea to check soil where food is grown and check the food itself before you eat anything.

A good source of ideas is "Life After Doomsday" by Bruce D. Clayton. He's anti-Christian and the book is outdated having been written back in the 80's, but the book still contains some good useful tips about all sorts of topics relevant to survivalism. There's probably a wealth of info out on the internet, naturally.

Anyway, I shall leave all that for an author better qualified on that subject than myself…]
